ROLL OF HONOUR.

IN MEMORIAM.

FENTON—In ever-loving memory of Charles Edwin, dearly-loved youngest son of the late Charles Fenton, Talbotstown House, Brittas, Co. Dublin, and of Mrs. Fenton, Clarinda Park, Kingstown, who died, in France, August 19th, 1917 (result of gas). Only "goodnight," beloved, not "farewell."

KERR—In ever-loving memory of Herbert Rowan (Bertie), 2nd Canadian Engineers, killed in action August 19th, 1917, sixth dearly-loved son of William H. and Mrs. Kerr, The Crescent, Clontarf. "Thy will be done."

STEWART—In ever-loving remembrance of my dear brother, Arthur T. Stewart, 1/6 Royal Welch Fusiliers (T.F.), who fell at Suvla Bay, August 19th, 1915.—Eva.

BIRTHS.

BUTLER—August 17, 1920, at 89 Lower Baggot st., Dublin, the wife of Walter W. Butler, J.P., of a daughter.

HUGHES—August 9, 1920, at Baltinglass, Co. Wicklow, the wife of Sergeant James Hughes, the Inniskilling Dragoons, a daughter.

WILSON—August 9, 1920, at the Nursing Home, Bolton, the wife of Lieutenant G. W. Wilson, R.N., of a daughter.

MARRIAGE

McKIERNAN and WOODS—August 11, 1920, at Kenmare, Co. Kerry, Doctor T. H. R. McKiernan, M.B., T.C.D., to Viva McGlynn Woods.

DEATHS.

ALLEN—August 17, 1920, at his residence, 22 Haroldville av., South Circular rd., Dublin, Thomas S. Allen, D.M.P. (late Crumlin), after a lingering illness. Deeply regretted by his sorrowing wife and little son. "Jesus said: I am the Resurrection and the Life; though he were dead, yet shall he live." Funeral to Crumlin Burial Ground to-day (Thursday), 19th, at 11 o'clock.

BEIRNE—August 17, 1920, at 5 Palmerston rd., Rathmines, Patrick Beirne, late of Ballinagheereen, aged 67. R.I.P. Remains left Broadstone yesterday (Wednesday), mid-day. Funeral to Kilcoleman to-day (Thursday), after High Mass. No flowers.

BOLAND—August 12, 1920, at 75 Philipsburgh av., Clontarf (the residence of her son-in-law), Catherine Boland, late of Ballymote, Co. Sligo. Fell asleep in Jesus. Interment took place on 14th inst to Mount Jerome. Rev. F. C. Gibson, B.A., officiated.

DAVIDSON—August 18, 1920, at 38 Hollybank av., Sandford, Noreen Margaret, loving and dearly-loved child of Edgar and Dorothy Davidson, aged 9 years. Funeral for Dean's Grange, at 9 a.m., to-morrow (Friday).

MOORE—August 18, 1920, at her residence, 23 Mount Merrion av., Blackrock, Mary, second eldest daughter of the late Michael Moore, Eadestown, Naas, Co. Kildare. R.I.P. Funeral private.

THOMPSON—August 16, 1920, at a Nursing Home in London, of pneumonia, Violet Redfern, eldest beloved daughter of the late Sir W. Henry Thompson, K.B.E., and Lady Thompson, of 14 Hatch st., Dublin.

WILSON—August 16, 1920, at Templemore, from the effect of bullet wound, District Inspector W. H. Wilson, R.I.C., aged 56 years. "With Christ, which is far better." Funeral to Templemore Cemetery to-day (Thursday), August 19th, at 2 o'clock.

IN MEMORIAM.

HUGHES—In ever-devoted and loving memory of our darling mother, Lydia J. Hughes, 6 Grosvenor tce., Monkstown, called by God to eternal rest 19th August, 1904. "Her children rise up and call her blessed," Prov. xxxi, 28, 1st part. Inserted by her loving children.

ARE YOU "ONLY MIDDLING?"

The familiar phrase "Only Middling" aptly describes an equally familiar state of health. Everybody knows what the term means—a seedy, indifferent, "below par," "out of sorts" condition which is neither conducive to the effective prosecution of business nor the proper enjoyment of recreation. It is a condition of which the vast majority of people have had experience. Few men, and still fewer women, can boast that they are never troubled with any ailment at any time. Now it frequently happens that the condition known as "only middling" is due to a deranged digestive system. Owing to irregular meals, worry, life at high pressure or some other cause the complex machinery of digestion has been thrown out of order for the time being. You will be acting in your own best interests if you take immediate steps to deal with this "only middling" condition. The wisest course to pursue is to seek the aid of that simple, safe, and highly efficacious medicine, Beecham's Pills. They give tone to the stomach, stimulate the liver, regulate the bowels, and purify the blood. Beecham's Pills stand to-day, after many years' service, in a position unique and unrivalled among proprietary preparations. They are still the proved and trusted remedy of thousands of men and women all over the world. Those who seek sound health and abundant vigour should take

BEECHAM'S PILLS.

Sold everywhere in boxes, price 1/1½ (56 pills) and 2/9 (168 pills).

Parents should see that their Boys are Properly Clothed.

The cloth, the cut, the make and finish of a Boy's Clothing largely influences his future career; well-cut, well-made garments inspire that well-bred feeling in a youth which makes him hold up his head and face the world with the confidence which is so necessary to success in life—the confidence that, in his outward appearance, he is inferior to no one. On the other hand, dress a boy in slovenly, ill-made togs, and at once he becomes obsessed with the idea that he is inferior to Tom, not equal to Dick, and just a point below Harry. It is unfair to the boy, and sometimes has a very prejudicial and lasting effect on his career.

The way to accomplish the first and avoid the latter is to bring your Boys to and have them clothed in their perfectly fitting and stylishly made garments, which possess the essentials of tone and durability. The cloths have been specially selected with a view to the requirements of public schools, and the stock of garments provided is varied and extensive. You cannot fail to find what you require at prices that will bear favourable comparison.

SPORTING NEWS.

TRAMORE MEETING—YESTERDAY.

There was a very successful wind-up to the meeting yesterday, when fields were again of good strength, and the weather held up fine to the end. Red Flag, who had won on the flat on Monday, had no penalty in the Graun Hurdle Plate, and, with Petite Fille beaten half a mile from home, the former had the race won from that stage onwards. Humming Top, after making most of the running in the Beresford Plate, failed to concede weight to Shieling, who, making up a lot of ground in the last half mile, got up close home to win by a neck.

Mudros, who had taken a flat race on the opening day, was now made favourite for the Guillamene Steeplechase, and, jumping in flippant style, supplemented her laurels. The Tramore Plate, the chief event at the meeting, provided a most interesting race, Mount Prospect, Snipe's Bridge, In Arms, and Empire Maker finishing in a cluster. Mount Prospect had the best of the positions at the turn, and this just about enabled him to win, but Empire Maker, who was conceding 18lb. to the winner, ran extremely well, and was not more than a length off the winner. Silver Speech beat a well-backed candidate in Magical Music for the Woodlock Cup, and Lady Glenbrook upset calculations by defeating Maureen Bawn somewhat easily in the Three Miles Steeplechase. Details:—

2.45.—GRAUN PLATE of 50 sovs. A hurdle race. 1½ m.

CHANTICLEER'S NOTES.
(SPECIAL TELEGRAM.)

BATH, WEDNESDAY NIGHT.

Under adverse weather conditions, the Bath Meeting opened to-day, and towards the finish the going became exceedingly heavy. For the wind-up the Grosvenor Handicap is the leading event. Aeon and Dodo look like fighting out the issue, and Dodo may win. My remaining selections read:—

All-Aged Plate—Clondir.
Somerset Plate—Witch Doctor.
Grenville Plate—Woodschurch.
Dodington Welter—Ironore.
Monument Plate—Vinny.

To-morrow's card at Stockton has been reduced to half-a-dozen races, and the programme is an excellent one. My selections are appended:

Middlesbro' Handicap—Princess Margaret or Brilliant Jester.
Elton Plate—Crimson.
Billingham Handicap—Sybilla.
Durham Produce Stakes—Redhead.
Thornaby Plate—Blanchette filly.

IRISH INTER-REGIMENTAL SHIELD. FINAL.

12th (ROYAL) LANCERS v. 15th (KING'S) HUSSARS.

Under happier conditions than prevail at present a bigger entry would have been received for the Inter-Regimental Shield, which was competed for yesterday at the Nine Acres, Phoenix Park, by the 12th (Royal) Lancers and the 15th (King's) Hussars. The absence of Colonel Hon. D. Bingham, owing to a regrettable mishap some time ago, greatly weakened the Hussars team, which, though on handicap four points a weaker side, made a plucky effort against an extremely well-balanced combination. The victory of the Lancers by seven goals to five was deserved. Both Mr. W. and Mr. R. M'Creery were always a big factor in obtaining goals, and with Major Charrington and Major Reynolds always sure in their hitting the side did most of the clever things witnessed in the game. Hussars made a great effort to get on terms in the concluding chukkar, and, perhaps, deserved better fortune. Mr. Douglas and Mr. Meyrick did well, and Captain Leaf, at back, also played a resourceful game. Major Godman was seldom at fault, and his goal in the concluding period was a characteristically good effort. Teams:—

12th (Royal) Lancers—Mr. W. S. M'Creery, Mr. R. L. M'Creery, Major Charrington, Major A. B. Reynolds.

15th (King's) Hussars—Mr. G. V. Douglas, Mr. Meyrick, Major Godman, Captain N. W. Leaf.

Umpires—Mr. T. I. Roark and Capt. Roark.

Hussars pressed determinedly in the opening chukker, in which Mr. Meyrick and Major Godman led an attack close to the Lancers' goal, but Major Reynolds returned play to midfield, and Mr. Douglas, getting possession, scored a rather easy goal. Hussars again attacked on the change of ends, and, despite some defensive hitting by Major Reynolds, Mr. Meyrick added the second. Lancers later improved, and some strong hitting by Mr. W. M'Creery and Major Charrington ended in Mr. R. M'Creery hitting through. The play in the second period was keen. Lancers maintained a strong pressure on their opponents, for whom Captain Leaf and Major Godman averted several dangerous attacks close to goal. A fast gallop by Mr. R. M'Creery led to Mr. W. M'Creery adding the second for his side, and on the change of ends these players were again prominent. Mr. Meyrick relieved the pressure with a short gallop, but Lancers returned, and though Major Godman sent back, Major Charrington got on later to give his side the lead. Captain Leaf opened up the exchanges towards the end of the chukkar, in which Mr. Douglas and Major Godman were a couple of times on the point of reducing their opponents' lead, and the last-named player, before the bell sounded, just missed the post with a good shot. In the initial stages of the fourth period Hussars still kept their opponents defending, but subsequently Mr. R. M'Creery broke through, and in a fast invasion to the opposite end Major Charrington drove down strongly, winding up a good individual effort by scoring the sixth for his side. A free hit against Lancers was just missed by Major Godman, after which Mr. W. M'Creery, backed up by Major Charrington, carried the ball the length of the ground to score a well-merited point. Major Godman and Mr. Douglas were later conspicuous in some hard hitting, which brought the ball close to the Lancers' posts, and though Major Reynolds partly hit clear, Captain Leaf got possession to score the Hussars' third goal. On the change of ends Captain Leaf again figured in a spell of keen play close to the Lancers' goal, which shortly afterwards succumbed to another shot from this player, who, with Mr. Douglas, brought the ball from midfield. The exchanges at this period were keenly fought out, and with the Hussars playing up strongly, Major Reynolds and Major Charrington were several times called upon to clear. Captain Leaf later hit well down, and Major Godman, seizing an opening, scored a capital goal from long range. His team strove strenuously in the concluding stages, and on a couple of occasions looked like scoring, but each effort by Captain Leaf and Mr. Meyrick was baulked by Major Reynolds. Result:—

12th (Royal) Lancers .... 7 goals
15th (King's) Hussars .... 5 goals

GOLF.

AMERICAN PROFESSIONAL CHAMPIONSHIP.

A Press Association telegram, dated Chicago, Tuesday (received Wednesday), says:—Play in the American Professional Golfers' Association Championship began on Flossmoor course, Illinois, to-day, with the first rounds. The players who had qualified from the different sections disputed the title in 36-hole matches. Laurence B. Ayton (St. Andrews), who recently arrived in America, had a great match with a prominent New York golfer, Charles Hoffner, and the Scot only won after 39 holes. James Barnes won his match, while other winners were:—James Edgar, formerly Northumberland professional; Jock Hutchison, Peter O'Hara, Louis Tellier, and Alex. Cunningham. Eddie Loos and Leo Diegel, two brilliant young Chicago golfers, were beaten. The former was beaten by Hutchison, and Diegel by Bob MacDonald. Tellier, the young Frenchman, gained a remarkable win over J. Roseman by 10 and 9.

CASTLE (Ladies' Branch).—August Medal, Class I.—Miss N. Levingston; Class II.—Miss P. Seaman and Mrs. Robertson tied.

The Irish Times.

THURSDAY, AUGUST 19, 1920.

According to the latest reports the attacks of the Bolsheviks in the direction of Warsaw have been repelled. A telegram from Moscow describes the first sitting of the Minsk Conference.

There is no confirmation of the report published yesterday from Bagdad that the situation in Mesopotamia had become worse.

It is hoped that the recent conversations between representatives of Great Britain and Egypt will facilitate the ultimate settlement of the Egyptian problem.

Mr. Lloyd George left London yesterday for Lucerne, where he will spend his holiday.

Messrs. Adamson and Gosling, the delegates of the British Council of Action, who were requested to leave France on Tuesday, have returned to London. The Council will consider the French Government's action at a meeting in London to-morrow.

A meeting of protest against the treatment of Dr. Mannix was held in Manchester last night. Mr. Sean Milroy in a speech said that England could have peace as soon as she liked, but it must be peace with honour.

A military cyclist patrol was fired on near Ballyvourney, Co. Cork, yesterday. Two soldiers were seriously wounded.

The inquest on Private Nunn, a native of Chesterfield, who was shot dead near Kanturk while guarding an aeroplane, fell through yesterday owing to the absence of the jury.

A large number of Irish Volunteers attended the funeral in Kanturk yesterday of two men who were killed in an exchange of shots with a military search party near Clonbanin.

The inquest on the body of Edward Paget, an English ex-Serviceman, who was killed during the disturbances in Limerick on Sunday, was abandoned yesterday owing to the absence of jurors.

In connection with the hunger-strike of prisoners in Cork Jail it is stated that arrangements are in progress to call a general strike for to-day or to-morrow in order to enforce their release.

The Cork City and County Branch of the Irish Unionist Alliance has passed a resolution reiterating the view that the Legislative Union is the only sure policy for maintaining the unity of Ireland and the strategic safety of the British Isles.

In London yesterday the Stock Markets were in a lethargic condition, and even the Oil market succumbed to the prevailing dulness. The features of a quiet Dublin market were the sharp rise in Dublin Distillers issues and the weakness of Dunlops.

The Council of Action.

Messrs. Adamson and Gosling, the ambassadors of the British Council of Action, have returned to London from France. Their trip to Paris did not last very long. Shortly after their arrival in the gay city they were requested politely to leave French soil, as their presence was not welcomed by the Government of the Republic. Therefore, like wise men, they came home. The object of their visit is explained by the Petit Parisien; they went as apostles of the new idea, "to prevent war." The mandarins of British Labour have persuaded themselves that the formation of their Council of Action prevented Mr. Lloyd George from sending British help to the Poles and involving the nation in another war. They were so elated at what they imagined to be their remarkable success that they hastened to communicate their method to the General Confederation of Labour in France, in the hope that it, too, would set up a Council of Action and put a spoke in M. Millerand's wheel. During their brief sojourn in Paris Messrs. Adamson and Gosling claim to have fulfilled the object of their mission. They said all that they wanted to say to the French Labour leaders; but, strangely enough, the Confederation of Labour does not seem to have acted on their advice. It knows better. The French Labour leaders still are smarting under the defeat which they sustained at the hands of the Government not so very long ago, and hesitate to invite another fall, even for the beaux yeux of their British comrades. The truth is that Messrs. Adamson and Gosling have made themselves look ridiculous. Republican France values its Parliamentary institutions, and will not replace them by an inferior substitute made at the Caxton Hall. The attitude of the French people to the Council of Action is expressed by their treatment of its envoys. The attitude of the British people is just as hostile, and will not long be left in doubt.

The establishment of the Council of Action constitutes a direct challenge to British democracy. Its founders declare that they represent six million organised workers in Great Britain, and, by some strange perversion of logic, arrogate to themselves the right to control the foreign policy of the nation. We do not believe that their claim to represent Great Britain's workers is correct. The British workman has his vote, and usually casts it. Even if it were correct, however, the position of Messrs. Adamson, Bevin, Clynes, Gosling, Smillie, Thomas, and the rest still would be untenable. The total number of registered electors in the United Kingdom under the Act of 1918 is 21,392,322. The "constituents" of the Council of Action represent less than a third of this number; therefore, their leaders are engaged in a determined attempt to make the tail wag the dog. The Council of Action is a Soviet. "Council" is the nearest translation of the Russian word. Its organisation follows the most approved Bolshevist models, and by the establishment of local bodies throughout the country, subordinate to the Central "Council," British Labour is simply swallowing the principles of the notorious Third International. It is true that many of the leaders of the movement are "moderate" men; but Kerensky also was moderate, and even Kameneff and Krassin were once most "respectable" citizens. We fear that the reputable leaders of British Labour have allowed themselves to be stampeded by the Polish canard into very bad company. Unwittingly, no doubt, they are acting as the dupes of Lenin's sworn disciples, and, unless they retreat from their present position as quickly as they were dragged into it, they will discover very soon that they have made a bad mistake.

Some of them have made the discovery already, and are rushing into print to explain their action. Others, again, are taking pains to point out that the Council of Action is only a temporary expedient, which never will develop into a permanent institution. All, or nearly all, are trying to modify the Council's scope. At first, for instance, a general strike was threatened in the event of British intervention in the Polish business. Now, it seems, the plan has been changed, and the Council's policy will be confined to placing a veto on the manufacture of munitions and equipment, and a refusal to carry war material or troops to the ports. That is something vastly different from a general strike, and the fact that the grandiose scheme has been abandoned suggests that Labour still has some respect for public opinion. The British people will not allow its Parliament to be elbowed out of the way by fanatical admirers of the Russian Bolsheviks. It will not tolerate the tyranny of the proletariat, just as it would not tolerate the tyranny of King John seven hundred years ago. Magna Charta still represents the birthright of British citizenship, and if Labour, or any other section of the community, should try to replace it by the charter of a Jewish Soviet, short work will be made of the undertaking. Speaking at Oxford yesterday, Mr. Clynes denied that the formation of the Council of Action was unconstitutional, and attempted to justify its existence. There can be no justification for a Bolshevist institution in the British Isles. If Labour wants to direct the country's affairs, Parliament is open to it, and it can compete for office at the polls. If, on the other hand, it is determined to break a lance with British democracy, its sinister challenge cannot be ignored.

Supremacy at Sea.

The news that an alliance has been formed by the American Ship and Commerce Corporation and the Hamburg-America Line should be pondered by the British public. The terms of the pact have not been revealed, but it is understood that all the trade routes, docks, and other facilities of the German concern will be placed at the disposal of the American company and vice versa, and that within the next twelve months the Americans will provide four large passenger steamers for the Transatlantic trade. It is said that a similar agreement is being negotiated between the North-German Lloyd Line and the United States Mail Steamship Company. The significance of these developments is obvious. They mean that the active minds which control the bulk of the American and German shipping interests have decided to pool their vast resources in a determined effort to sweep their competitors from the seas. In some respects it is the most serious challenge that the British mercantile marine ever has received. It is America's bid for the fulfilment of a long-cherished ambition, and we may be sure that the plan will be prosecuted not merely with intelligence, but with the utmost vigour. We must be prepared for a keen struggle. Concerning its outcome, however, there need be little doubt. Britain's supremacy at sea was not won in a day, and it will not be lost in a day. Our shipping concerns have great traditions and vast experience, and they can be trusted to make a good fight. While the issue is undecided, however, the situation is bound to cause some anxiety. Shipping is one of the main pillars of the United Kingdom's prosperity. A large section of the population finds its employment at sea, and it is questionable whether we ever could afford to have large proportions of our foodstuffs and raw materials brought to our ports in other nations' ships. As matters stand at present we cannot even pay for the actual price of our imports by our exports. Two factors are in our favour in the forthcoming struggle. In the first place, a large and efficient mercantile marine is of much greater importance to us than it is to the United States. America can find ample and profitable employment for all her people in the interior. If freights were reduced to the point at which profits almost disappeared it would still pay us to keep our ships at sea, while it would not pay the American-German "combines." The second factor in our favour is the strength of our shipbuilding industry. Since the Armistice was signed it has recovered its pre-war position. The American industry, on the other hand, has lost ground steadily. The latest returns issued by Lloyd's Register give striking proof of that fact. A year ago the amount of tonnage being built in the United States exceeded that under construction in the United Kingdom by 1,350,000 tons. By the end of last year this great excess in favour of the United States had been converted into an excess of 27,000 tons in favour of the United Kingdom. Now the amount of tonnage under construction in the United Kingdom—3,578,000 tons—exceeds that being built in the United States by 1,472,000 tons. So long as we hold the supremacy in shipbuilding we hold the surest title to the supremacy of the seas.

Foot-and-Mouth Disease.

The English Department of Agriculture has decided to make a thorough investigation into the causes of the arch-enemy of the stock-owner—foot-and-mouth disease. The foremost experts of Great Britain and the Continent have been invited to take part in the work, and it is proposed to conduct the experiments in such a way that no phase of the disease shall escape examination. Owing to the highly contagious nature of the malady it has been decided that the inquiry shall be conducted at sea. The Admiralty has been approached on the subject, and has consented to supply the necessary vessels. Several obsolete warships have been placed at the disposal of the Department, and in the course of the next few weeks they will be equipped for their unusual task. They will be transformed into floating laboratories. The investigation will occupy a considerable time, and it is certain to yield good results. A remedy for foot-and-mouth disease may not be found, but we can expect some discoveries which will be of service to stock-raisers. One of the chief matters for inquiry is to find the breeds which offer the best resistance to the disease. In this respect it may be recalled that in 1912 a Commission was sent to India to investigate foot-and-mouth disease there, and that its experiments were rendered abortive by the discovery that Indian cattle were not subject to the pest. The result of the inquiry will be awaited with keen interest in Ireland.

The Ocean's Wealth.

The belief that the ocean can be forced to yield a rich harvest of gold to the enterprising chemist has a fatal attraction for some minds. A German adventurer has brought it to the front once more, and, in a pretentious circular, he invites the British public to supply him with capital so that he may begin operations. "It is quite a well-known fact," he says, "that the formerly richest gold mines of the Transvaal and Alaska have become less productive, and threaten to become exhausted." There is no need to be alarmed, however, for he holds a remedy. Over 800,000,000,000 tons of the precious metal, he declares impressively, are at hand, and "this vast source of gold is—the ocean—the sea water!" Having revealed this wonderful fact, he proceeds to tell his potential dupes the benefits which he can confer upon them. His company—which will operate on the American coast—will be able to pour out a dividend of 100 per cent. at the end of the first year's trading, and, as the business grows, the dividends will increase and multiply. It is quite evident from the circular that, despite the disappearance of the German Navy and mercantile marine, at least one German believes that his future is on the water. The wealth of which he dreams may be as boundless as the ocean, but we fear that there is a very definite limit to the credulity of the British public.

IRISH BUTTER SUPPLIES.

SCHEME FOR THE WINTER MONTHS.

With reference to the Irish butter supplies, a rise in prices has taken place in Dublin during the past few days, and some uneasiness has been expressed regarding the prospects for the ensuing winter. Inquiries made yesterday in the city and at the Food Control offices would seem to indicate that fairly adequate precautions have been taken with a view to providing that the country shall not suffer unduly in consequence of the world-wide shortage of butter. Under the scheme, which has already been put into operation, no Irish trader may export butter unless he holds a licence to export from the Department. A trader will not be granted a licence unless he puts a certain percentage of his total handling of butter in cold storage. The price of bulk butter has been fixed in Ireland for the coming winter not to exceed 3s. 4d. per lb. In pre-war days Ireland depended for her winter supply of butter almost entirely upon imports, but imported butter will not be available during next winter. In this country the summer price of butter has always been lower than in Great Britain, and during the summer there was no control price. The recent rise in prices is due to the universal scarcity of supplies, there having been a big jump in prices on the foreign markets.

We understand that the Department is paying close attention to the working of the new scheme in Ireland, and that any exporter who fails to put butter in cold storage in proportion to the quantity exported will have his licence cancelled. Last winter the Irish butter supplies were entirely regulated by private enterprise, the wholesalers and retailers purchasing from the producers, and the price was the same as the Ministry of Food were paying in England. The entire surplus of the Irish butter was bought by the Ministry of Food, and the Irish prices were regulated by the prices paid by the Ministry. This year the control is taken off butter in England, and prices are soaring, while Ireland will not be able to obtain foreign or Colonial supplies. A conference has been held in Dublin, representative of the two Farmers' Unions, the producers, the Co-operative Creameries, the proprietor of Creameries, the Irish Agricultural Organisation Society, the exporting merchants, the wholesale traders and the consumers, and it is as a result of that conference that the new scheme has been formulated. The exporters have undertaken to put some 4,000 tons of butter in cold storage, for use in Ireland during the winter, at such prices as would permit, after paying all storage and other charges, of butter being retailed at 3s. 4d. per lb. Provided that scheme is adhered to, the Irish exporters will be permitted to export the surplus, and obtain such prices for it as may be obtainable in the cross-Channel markets. The Department is now examining the return for the first period of cold storage, and intends strictly to carry out the terms of the scheme, even to the extent of withdrawing his licence from any exporter who fails to cold store the full percentage. The price of butter in England during the coming winter must necessarily be a matter of speculation, but present indications suggest that it may go to 5s. per lb.

DEPARTURE OF THE LORD LIEUTENANT.

His Excellency Lord French left Kingstown by the mail boat for Holyhead yesterday morning, en route for London. The Lord Lieutenant was attended by the usual military guard and police.

THE UNDER SECRETARY.

The Right Hon. James MacMahon has obtained leave of absence, and will be away from Dublin on holiday for some weeks.

MR. H. G. BURGESS.

Mr. H. G. Burgess, who has been appointed principal assistant to the General Manager of the London and North-Western Railway Company, left Kingstown yesterday morning, en route for London.

RATHDOWN GUARDIANS.

MEDICAL OFFICERS' OATH.

A meeting of the Rathdown Guardians was held yesterday, Mr. James Hoey in the chair.

A communication was read from Miss Somers, Secretary of the Dublin Industrial Development Association, asking for support for that organisation.

The Clerk explained that, as a Board, they could not subscribe, and it was decided to secure the opinion of Dail Eireann on the matter.

Applications for the post of Medical Officer of Stillorgan Dispensary District were received from:—Dr. King, Dalkey; Dr. James Boland, Stillorgan; Dr. Coffey, Lacy's Hotel, Bray; Dr. Murphy, Galway; and Dr. Connolly, Carnew.

The advertisement had stipulated that the doctor elected should take an oath of allegiance to Dail Eireann.

The Chairman mentioned that, as the appointment was a professional one, it was a question whether it would be absolutely necessary for the doctor appointed to take the oath. Doctors Boland, King, and Connolly declared their willingness to take the oath.

On a division, Dr. King was declared elected.

LONDON CORRESPONDENCE.

59 FLEET STREET, LONDON,
WEDNESDAY NIGHT.

The Prime Minister left Victoria Station at eight o'clock this morning en route for Lucerne. He says that he means to have a rest, and he certainly deserves one. He has been continuously in office for nearly fifteen years, in one laborious post after another, and for the last six of them has had his mind constantly on the stretch. At the present moment his anxieties are as numerous and acute as they have been at any time since the Armistice, for in addition to the Russo-Polish imbroglio, embarrassing our good relations with France, there is the ever-burning sore in Ireland and the probability of a coal strike in the near future.

To some extent, no doubt, Mr. Lloyd George is responsible for enlarging his own burdens. He has not the happy knack characteristic of the great captains of industry of so choosing his subordinates, and so organising their work, that only on comparatively rare occasions is it necessary for him to take off his own coat. As the Pall Mall Gazette, one of his warmest supporters in the Press, truly remarks: "It is the penalty of his own qualities that he has been made the final arbitrator in every question of policy, and that, in international and domestic affairs alike, his authority and skill have been invoked to straighten out every entanglement."

During his holiday at the Villa Haslethorne he might well devote a few quiet moments to thinking out how to devolve more of his responsibilities upon his colleagues and lighten the burden which now presses so hardly upon himself. In particular, he would do well, I think, to make up his mind not to be the principal British representative on the Council of the League of Nations. After all—pace Mr. Clynes—the League is not a part of the British Constitution, and, though it is highly desirable that the British Government should emphasise its support of the League by appointing a distinguished statesman as its representative, there is no necessity for the Prime Miniter to add that to his innumerable other duties.

Mr. Clynes, by the way, essays to defend himself in the Evening Standard against the charge that in his advocacy of the Council of Action he has been dragged at the heels of the extremists. With some ingenuity he argues that Labour has just as much right as any other organised body of opinion "to use any particular form of influence which it could exert upon the Government," and that, "to ask men not to make or handle war materials, or give a contribution of personal service, as an act of war" is not to challenge either the Constitution or democracy.

Yet towards the close of his article there are indications that Mr. Clynes, like Frankenstein, is not altogether comfortable about the creature that he has helped to bring into being; for after observing that "we do not approve the acts of Bolshevists, nor the principles or conditions of Soviet government," he expresses the belief that changes in the State will continue to come "by the process of ideas and the intellectual acceptance of altered forms of social and political government." Then comes this striking conclusion—in singular contrast to some of the wild and whirling words uttered in other quarters—"the Council of Action will outstay the period for which it was called into being, if it attempts to make itself into a permanent body. Too many permanent bodies already exist as agents for Labour action. The work of the Council is not finished, but it will over-reach itself if it tries to do more than discharge the special duties which the great Labour Conference imposed upon it."

Political gossips to-day whisper that the Council of Action of the Labour Party may try to force a general election, but the most cursory glance at the situation as it actually exists at the moment can only lead to the conclusion that they have nothing to gain by an appeal to the country. If the issue is to be constitutional government against dictation by the Council of Action the result could only be an immense strengthening of the Coalition position. The Coalition certainly has no need to go to the country. Every attempt to oppose the will of the Government in the Commons has ended in a fiasco. If the Council of Action consider that they are strong enough to carry the electorate with them they will be disappointed. So far as acting as a consolidating agent to the Labour Party the Council has had the effect of splitting that far from homogeneous body.

After seeing his chief off this morning Sir William Sutherland, M.P., the Prime Minister's Parliamentary Private Secretary, left London for Scotland. His handbook on the work of the Coalition is now completed, and will be issued in about a fortnight. Among other things it will contain some striking examples of the differences of opinion on matters of principle between the leaders of the "Wee Frees" themselves and between them and their followers. Mr. Hogge on Mr. Asquith, and Mr. Pringle on Sir Donald Maclean, should make amusing and effective propaganda.

Yesterday the evening paper placards announced "Fate of Warsaw—Official." To-day, with equal emphasis, they declare, "Warsaw out of Danger." The wise reader will attach not much more importance to the latter than to the former, for we have learned by painful experience to take nothing for granted where Russia is concerned. There seems to be no doubt, however, that the Poles, under French strategical guidance, have made a great effort, and relieved, at least temporarily, the danger to their capital. If their resistance does not weaken they may remove it entirely, for, to judge by the interesting article in The Times to-day on the Bolshevist Armies, there is little enthusiasm for war in the great bulk of the troops composing them.

A return issued to-day shows that during the month of June the staffs of Government departments decreased by 89 to a total of 368,821. The staff of the Munitions Ministry decreased by 3,732, but this considerable reduction is accounted for by the transfer of staff to the War Office, where the staff is higher by 3,289. Six other departments show a small decrease, while a rise of 524 in the case of the Post Office is accounted for by additional work and by the engagement of substitutes for holiday reliefs. The Ministry of Pensions staff has grown by 384 to a total of 25,418, while an increase of just over 100 at the Board of Agriculture is explained by the seasonal staff engaged in connection with the annual agricultural returns.

MR. LLOYD GEORGE'S HOLIDAY.

DEPARTURE FOR LUCERNE.

Mr. Lloyd George, accompanied by Miss Megan and Major Gwillim Lloyd George, left Victoria at 8 o'clock yesterday morning for Lucerne. Lord Riddell and Sir Maurice and Lady Hankey also accompanied the party.

A telegram from Boulogne-sur-Mer yesterday says:—Mr. Lloyd George arrived here at noon to-day by the Folkestone steamer. After being greeted by M. Laban, Sub-Prefect, the right hon. gentleman proceeded to the refreshment room, where he had lunch. Together with his suite, comprising about twenty persons, he took his place in a special train for Switzerland.

Mr. Lloyd George and his party arrived at the Gare du Nord by special train at 4.50 this afternoon (says a telegram from Paris). In his carriage was Lord Derby, who had boarded the train at Chantilly. The party waited in the train until another special train had been made up. This train left Paris for Switzerland at 5.35 p.m.

At the Gare du Nord Mr. Lloyd George invited into his saloon the British Military Attache, who, in the presence of Lord Derby, explained on a map the situation of the Polish Army, according to the latest news received. While the special train was being prepared to take him to Lucerne, Mr. Lloyd George walked up and down the platform in company with Sir Maurice Hankey. The Premier appeared to be in excellent spirits, and chatted with the members of his party. Later he took his place in his saloon, and at 5.35 p.m. the special train resumed its journey.

IN NEW BERLIN—I.

THE INTER-ALLIED CANTEEN.

A HOME FROM HOME.

(FROM OUR SPECIAL CORRESPONDENT.)

BERLIN, AUGUST 12TH, 1920.

Through a half-concealed narrow doorway, down a steep flight of stairs, along a dark passage, from which start various others, reminding one of Katzenjammer Castle, one arrives at a room the identical replica of a British grocer's shop. It is just back from the Wilhelmstrasse, opposite, on the one hand, the imposing frown of the German Foreign Office and the stately aloofness of the British Embassy. There is nothing frowning or aloof about this subterranean retreat. It is the "Inter-Allied" Canteen, provided for those Allied subjects attached to the various Military and Naval Commissions here in Berlin.

Behind the counter, in khaki uniform, invariably wearing the regimental cap, are the privates and sergeants who attend to the "customers." I have often wondered by what stretch of imagination it can be called "Inter-Allied," for, from the very labels on the tins to the cut of the sergeant's hair the whole place is an embodiment of British ideas. Here, at any rate, is one piece of German territory definitely annexed by Great Britain! Not a trace of any goods other than British is to be seen. In one corner, usually strongly occupied by a group of British naval officers—juniors, of course—for the Naval Commission is near by—Guinness's stout, in small bottles, is on sale, and during this hot weather the amount consumed is simply prodigious. Towards four o'clock in the afternoon, when the canteen shuts except to officers in uniform, is the best time to see the canteen and sample its wit. There is a rush to get things at the last minute.

A rather portly gentleman in a grey check suit stands at the counter in the middle of the crowd, looking apparently at everything in the canteen except the sergeant. His hat is pulled down well over his eyes. The sergeant fixes him with a steely-cold expression, and asks in a tone of extreme politeness what he can have the pleasure of supplying. The gentleman in the check suit, in a timidly low voice, orders a loaf of bread. It is solemnly placed before him. The sergeant winks at the crowd. The next thing ordered is jam; then pickles, and so on, the stranger gaining courage. Finally, having ordered all he can carry, he crowns it by asking for a bottle of whiskey. That he also gets, and asks for the bill. The sergeant begins to count up the items. Then, as if suddenly recollecting something, says: "Oh! 'Ave you yore permit by you, sir?" In confusion the stranger tries to stutter an explanation, and, as he retires crestfallen amid the titters of the crowd, the sergeant audibly remarks, "Thort 'e was a Jerry!"

The next customer is a woman, the British-born wife of a German formerly resident in England. The sergeant asks her politely who she is. She has no permit. He knows very well she has no claim on the canteen. Still, blood is, after all, stronger than water, and the woman has children. Craning his neck over the counter, and carrying on a running fire of Cockney wit, is that little devil from the British Consulate. Finally, he sits on the counter, his hat drawn over one eye, and gives his order at a shout: "Two tins of marmalade—and none of that beastly Australian stuff—understand?" His home is, doubtless, in Fulham or Balham or some such obnoxious place.

The sergeant is a mine of information, and among his admirable qualities is that of acting as financial barometer. "'Ear that the mark is goin' up to four 'undred to the pahnd!" he remarks at large. "Cancel that order I left with you this morning," is the immediate result. "Wy? That don't make no difference 'ere! Everythink is sold by British prices—understand?" Among the other attainments of the canteen staff is a certain linguistic capacity. The sergeant—whose name, by the way, is "Bill"—has to negotiate for the acceptance of the white bread made from British flour, which arrives daily from the bakery at Charlottenberg. The loaves must be counted over. It generally happens that some mistake has been made. The sergeant mildly expostulates in German which would make any local cat laugh. The baker's boy is a little dull, particularly when it is a question of shortages. German people never taste white bread unless they can get a doctor's order certifying to illness. The gaps in the sergeant's vocabulary are supplemented by the use of signs, and, by way of making his English intelligible, he shouts gently. At any rate, short of actually knocking the boy down, he adopts every device his ingenuity suggests, except trying to pronounce the German words as they are pronounced in Germany.

When French officers visit the canteen the versatility of the sergeant fails him. He cannot be expected to learn a second foreign language, but that makes no difference. The huge Johnsonian nigger attached to the canteen speaks beautiful, fluent French. American officers are never seen at the canteen, but now and again an American civilian has the effrontery to try to force the sergeant to hand over the goods. Knowing from hearsay of the stony reception he is likely to receive, he tries by "bluff" and an assumed British pronunciation to get what he wants. "Bill" has an aversion from Americans. He detects the accent behind the disguise, and, with the inflexibility of steel, he insists on "seeing the permit."

When the Japanese visit the canteen, as frequently happens, the resourcefulness of the sergeant is baffled. He cannot distinguish any difference between them. He does not speak Japanese—which, by the way, "aint no sort of a language at all." He cannot read what is written in Chinese characters on their passports—he simply capitulates. The other day I wanted a bottle of whiskey. It can only be got with a military order. I got one from a Japanese officer, written on his private card, covered all over with hieroglyphics. "Bill" looked at it thoughtfully, drew a line at the bottom of the column, and solemnly started to "add it up"!

CORK UNIONISTS AND DOMINION HOME RULE.

THE DEPUTATION TO MR. LLOYD GEORGE.

At a meeting of the Committee of the Cork City and County Branch of the Irish Unionist Alliance, Sir George St. J. Colthurst, Bart., D.L., in the chair, the following resolution was unanimously adopted, on the proposition of Mr. Thomas Farrington, M.A., J.P., seconded by Mr. John Willis, J.P.:—

"We beg to state that we have no responsibility for the recent deputation to the Prime Minister, or for the policy of Dominion Home Rule there suggested. We desire to reiterate strongly our loyalty to the King and our firm adherence to the Legislative Union of Great Britain and Ireland as the only sure policy for maintaining the unity of Ireland and the strategic safety of the British Isles. A system of dual control such as has been proposed by the advocates of Dominion Home Rule (so-called) could only be fatal to the peace and prosperity of the United Kingdom."

MR. CARLISLE AND THE HOUSE OF LORDS.

Mr. A. M. Carlisle, the Irish Privy Councillor, who protested on the steps of the Throne of the House of Lords against the Restoration and Maintenance of Order in Ireland Bill, has received the following communication from the Lord Great Chamberlain (the Marquis of Lincolnshire), dated the 17th inst.:—

SIR,—In consequence of the resolution passed yesterday by the House of Lords—of which I enclose a copy—I have to inform you that the privilege of your being admitted to the steps of the Throne has been withdrawn."

The copy of the resolution enclosed is in the following terms:—

"Moved to resolve that the Right Hon. Alexander Montgomery Carlisle, having abused his privilege of being admitted to the steps of the Throne by disorderly conduct on the 9th August, 1920, should be debarred from the exercise of that privilege in future. (The Earl Curzon of Kedleston agreed to, and ordered accordingly)."

Mr. Carlisle has sent the following reply:—

"SIR,—I have received your lordship's communication of yesterday's date, informing me of the resolution passed at the House of Lords on Monday, August 16th, 1920, whereby my privilege of being admitted to the steps of the Throne has been withdrawn. The fact that I have performed what I felt to be an imperative duty enables me to accept their lordships' resolution with fortitude."

WEATHER FORECAST.

General Inference.—Cool and rather showery weather is probable in all districts. The main wind direction will be northerly, and the force moderate or light generally, but stronger in exposed places. Similar conditions may continue beyond the ensuing 24 hours.

Ireland.—Moderate northerly wind; much low cloud; local showers; brighter intervals; visibility good; very cool.

IN NEW BERLIN—I

THE INTER-ALLIED CANTEEN.

A HOME FROM HOME.

(FROM OUR SPECIAL CORRESPONDENT.)

BERLIN, AUGUST 12TH, 1920.

Through a half-concealed narrow doorway, down a steep flight of stairs, along a dark passage, from which start various others, reminding one of Katzenjammer Castle, one arrives at a room the identical replica of a British grocer's shop. It is just back from the Wilhelmstrasse, opposite, on the one hand, the imposing frown of the German Foreign Office and the stately aloofness of the British Embassy. There is nothing frowning or aloof about this subterranean retreat. It is the "Inter-Allied" Canteen, provided for those Allied subjects attached to the various Military and Naval Commissions here in Berlin.

Behind the counter, in khaki uniform, invariably wearing the regimental cap, are the privates and sergeants who attend to the "customers." I have often wondered by what stretch of imagination it can be called "Inter-Allied," for, from the very labels on the tins to the cut of the sergeant's hair the whole place is an embodiment of British ideas. Here, at any rate, is one piece of German territory definitely annexed by Great Britain! Not a trace of any goods other than British is to be seen. In one corner, usually strongly occupied by a group of British naval officers—juniors, of course—for the Naval Commission is near by—Guinness's stout, in small bottles, is on sale, and during this hot weather the amount consumed is simply prodigious. Towards four o'clock in the afternoon, when the canteen shuts except to officers in uniform, is the best time to see the canteen and sample its wit. There is a rush to get things at the last minute.

A rather portly gentleman in a grey check suit stands at the counter in the middle of the crowd, looking apparently at everything in the canteen except the sergeant. His hat is pulled down well over his eyes. The sergeant fixes him with a steely-cold expression, and asks in a tone of extreme politeness what he can have the pleasure of supplying. The gentleman in the check suit, in a timidly low voice, orders a loaf of bread. It is solemnly placed before him. The sergeant winks at the crowd. The next thing ordered is jam, then pickles, and so on, the stranger gaining courage. Finally, having ordered all he can carry, he crowns it by asking for a bottle of whiskey. That he also gets, and asks for the bill. The sergeant begins to count up the items. Then, as if suddenly recollecting something, says: "Oh! 'Ave you yore permit by you, sir?" In confusion the stranger tries to stutter an explanation, and, as he retires crestfallen amid the titters of the crowd, the sergeant audibly remarks, "Thort 'e was a Jerry!"

The next customer is a woman, the British-born wife of a German formerly resident in England. The sergeant asks her politely who she is. She has no permit. He knows very well she has no claim on the canteen. Still, blood is, after all, stronger than water, and the woman has children. Craning his neck over the counter, and carrying on a running fire of Cockney wit, is that little devil from the British Consulate. Finally, he sits on the counter, his hat drawn over one eye, and gives his order at a shout: "Two tins of marmalade—and none of that beastly Australian stuff—understand?" His home is, doubtless, in Fulham or Balham or some such obnoxious place.

The sergeant is a mine of information, and among his admirable qualities is that of acting as financial barometer. "'Ear that the mark is goin' up to four 'undred to the pahnd!" he remarks at large. "Cancel that order I left with you this morning," is the immediate result. "Wy? That don't make no difference 'ere! Everythink is sold by British prices—understand?" Among the other attainments of the canteen staff is a certain linguistic capacity. The sergeant—whose name, by the way, is "Bill"—has to negotiate for the acceptance of the white bread made from British flour, which arrives daily from the bakery at Charlottenberg. The loaves must be counted over. It generally happens that some mistake has been made. The sergeant mildly expostulates in German which would make any local cat laugh. The baker's boy is a little dull, particularly when it is a question of shortages. German people never taste white bread unless they can get a doctor's order certifying to illness. The gaps in the sergeant's vocabulary are supplemented by the use of signs, and, by way of making his English intelligible, he shouts gently. At any rate, short of actually knocking the boy down, he adopts every device his ingenuity suggests, except trying to pronounce the German words as they are pronounced in Germany.

When French officers visit the canteen the versatility of the sergeant fails him. He cannot be expected to learn a second foreign language, but that makes no difference. The huge Johnsonian nigger attached to the canteen speaks beautiful, fluent French. American officers are never seen at the canteen, but now and again an American civilian has the effrontery to try to force the sergeant to hand over the goods. Knowing from hearsay of the stony reception he is likely to receive, he tries by "bluff" and an assumed British pronunciation to get what he wants. "Bill" has an aversion from Americans. He detects the accent behind the disguise, and, with the inflexibility of steel, he insists on "seeing the permit."

When the Japanese visit the canteen, as frequently happens, the resourcefulness of the sergeant is baffled. He cannot distinguish any difference between them. He does not speak Japanese—which, by the way, "aint no sort of a language at all." He cannot read what is written in Chinese characters on their passports—he simply capitulates. The other day I wanted a bottle of whiskey. It can only be got with a military order. I got one from a Japanese officer, written on his private card, covered all over with hieroglyphics. "Bill" looked at it thoughtfully, drew a line at the bottom of the column, and solemnly started to "add it up"!

CORK UNIONISTS AND DOMINION HOME RULE.

THE DEPUTATION TO MR. LLOYD GEORGE.

At a meeting of the Committee of the Cork City and County Branch of the Irish Unionist Alliance, Sir George St. J. Colthurst, Bart., D.L., in the chair, the following resolution was unanimously adopted, on the proposition of Mr. Thomas Farringdon, M.A., J.P., seconded by Mr. John Willis, J.P.:—

"We beg to state that we have no responsibility for the recent deputation to the Prime Minister, or for the policy of Dominion Home Rule there suggested. MR. CARLISLE AND THE HOUSE OF LORDS.

Mr. A. M. Carlisle, the Irish Privy Councillor, who protested on the steps of the Throne of the House of Lords against the Restoration and Maintenance of Order in Ireland Bill, has received the following communication from the Lord Great Chamberlain (the Marquis of Lincolnshire), dated the 17th inst.:—

SIR,—In consequence of the resolution passed yesterday by the House of Lords—of which I enclose a copy—I have to inform you that the privilege of your being admitted to the steps of the Throne has been withdrawn."

The copy of the resolution enclosed is in the following terms:—

"Moved to resolve that the Right Hon. Alexander Montgomery Carlisle, having abused his privilege of being admitted to the steps of the Throne by disorderly conduct on the 9th August, 1920, should be debarred from the exercise of that privilege in future. (The Earl Curzon of Kedleston agreed to, and ordered accordingly)."

Mr. Carlisle has sent the following reply:—

"SIR,—I have received your lordship's communication of yesterday's date, informing me of the resolution passed at the House of Lords on Monday, August 16th, 1920, whereby my privilege of being admitted to the steps of the Throne has been withdrawn. FROM "THE TIMES" OF TO-DAY.

(BY SPECIAL ARRANGEMENT WITH THE PROPRIETORS OF THE TIMES.)

THE POLISH DEFENCE.

The Times, in a leading article to-day, says—Skilful leadership and the indomitable pluck of the Polish troops have, undoubtedly, relieved Warsaw from the immediate pressure of the Reds. Trotsky does not deny the fact. The Polish front, he suggests, is weakened by its division into a military and a diplomatic section—the first at Warsaw, and the second at Minsk. Nobody has better cause than he and some of the other Commissars to know, and to bear in mind, how enfeebling, in certain conditions, such divisions may be. A Red Government, for example, which is compelled to entrust high military commands to ex-officers of a Monarchical Army, can never feel quite comfortable in its diplomatic section. The tone of argument which the Bolshevist leader adopted was, perhaps, judicious in the circumstances. Altogether, proceeds The Times, the Commissars have a good deal to trouble them, besides the heavy check their troops have received. Trotsky's harangue reveals as much. Unless he were much perturbed he would hardly give two such very inconsistent accounts of General Wrangel's position in the same breath. Naturally these developments are being watched with deep interest by Russia's old partner in the partition and in the oppression of Poland. All Germans may not wish success to the Bolshevists, but almost all of them wish the ruin of independent Poland. The incident at Kattowitz, in Upper Silesia, is a striking instance of the returning arrogance of the Germans, and our Berlin Correspondent reports that a new putsch—White or Red—is widely expected in Berlin. Decidedly the situation remains delicate and critical. Decidedly the Entente—firm, cordial, and without reserve—is very necessary to control it. Statesmen and publicists on both sides of the Channel must keep that truth ever before their eyes.

MESOPOTAMIA.

A few days ago the India Office issued a colourless notification about a meeting of Arab notables held at Bagdad, which seemed to imply that the principal people of Mesopotamia were agreeably engaged in framing an "electoral law," remarks The Times editorially to-day. Now it is suggested from unofficial sources that Bagdad is in danger of being surrounded by "rebels." Is it accurate to call the tribes engaged in the Mesopotamia rising "rebels"? Against what authority are they "rebelling"? Mesopotamia does not form part of the British Empire. The official theory is that the Supreme Council has granted to Great Britain a mandate for Mesopotamia. By no straining of words can the participants in the rising be called "rebels." While the Government maintain a massive silence, and refuse to offer any alternative explanation, we can only conclude that the people of Mesopotamia have revolted because they object to the proposed mandate, and still more because they dislike the manner in which British authority is being exercised over them. We do not credit the suggestion that Bagdad may be in serious danger, adds The Times, or that its communications may be cut off, but the admitted facts show that the city is gradually becoming ringed round by hostile groups. The writ of the authorities at Bagdad cannot run very far. This is proved by a glance at the map. Why is it that the British public are left to learn of these disturbing events through our Correspondent in Teheran? Why are the War Office and the India Office concealing the truth? There seems to have been continuous fighting at Hillah, 60 miles south of Baghdad, while at Kufa, 35 miles south of Hillah, a British garrison has been besieged for weeks without relief. The remedy of the Government is to pour in more troops, but the only right course is obviously a change of policy. So long as the present policy is pursued there will always be risings, and always calls for additional troops. It is now clear that unless a drastic alteration of method is adopted this year's Budget will show in its final form an expenditure of at least £100,000,000 on Mesopotamia and Persia.

THE MINERS' THREAT.

No compromise seems possible between the Government and the Miners' Federation of Great Britain in respect of the claim that the "surplus profit" on export coal shall be divided between the workers in the industry and the coal consumers, says The Times. In the colliery districts there is a general opinion that a national strike about the middle of September is inevitable. If the strike is declared, the public should be under no delusion as to the thoroughness of the stoppage. There is no better-drilled and disciplined organisation or one more solid than the Miners' Federation of Great Britain. The public and the miners alike, therefore, would do well to consider the cost of a coal strike, which would almost certainly destroy the only really profitable part of the industry at the present time—the export trade. Whatever may have been the past record of Downing street in industrial negotiations, there is at present not the slightest indication to recede from the position taken up in dealing with the present claim of the miners. The Government's attitude is firm, and the only factor which might have any influence on the definite drift towards the disastrous strike is that of the position of other trade unions, whose members would quickly feel the effect of a stoppage at the pits. These unions may possibly seek to persuade the miners to hesitate before launching their attack on the country.

THE STOCK EXCHANGE.

The volume of business in Stock Markets, says The Times, yesterday, was on a smaller scale, but in view of the paucity of business in several directions the general tone of markets was not unsatisfactory. The firmness of Gilt-edged Securities was one of the most satisfactory incidents of the day's history, and Argentine Railway Stocks were quite buoyant. Oil Shares, however, showed some reaction, and in spite of the more reassuring character of the Polish news French operators were inclined to offer shares, both in the Oil and South African markets.

OUTRAGES OFFICIALLY REPORTED.

The summary of official reports of outrages received on 18th August includes the following:—

Co. Cork.—At about 6 p.m. on 16th inst. a postman conveying the mails from Whitechurch to Cork was held up by two armed and disguised men at Ballinhina, who took the mails.

Co. Westmeath.—At 1 p.m. on 17th inst. the mail car from Mullingar to Castlepollard was held up and the mails taken.

THE DEFENCE OF WARSAW.

BOLSHEVIK ATTACKS REPULSED.

The following official statement was issued from the offices of the Russian Delegation in London:—Message from Moscow, dated August 17th:—To-day at 7 p.m. the Minsk Conference was opened by the speech of the Chairman of the Russian Delegation, Danishevsky. Then an exchange of credentials took place. Danishevsky, in his speech, reviewed the history of the Russo-Polish relations, outlined Russia's peaceful policy, emphasised especially Russia's respect for Poland's independence and sovereign rights, Poland's right to determine her own form of government, and that "we accord to Poland more territory than the Entente." He said also that "we must demand from the landlords of Poland such guarantees against renewed attacks, which would not be necessary from the workers and peasants of Poland." The Poles proposed to hold the next meeting on the 19th, but the Russian delegates insisted that it should be on the 18th. This date was, therefore, decided.

THE FIGHT FOR WARSAW.

Reuter's Agency learns that the following Polish official communiqué was issued in Warsaw on Tuesday:—

The desperate attacks of the Bolsheviks in the direction of Warsaw have all been repelled. In the North we have retaken Sochocin, Nowemiasto, Gasocin, and Ciechanoff.

We have commenced a counter-offensive on the line of Demblin-Ivangorod-Kock, taking Parczew, Radzwel, Zelechow, and Garwolin.

The enemy is retreating in panic from the line of the Vistula (section of Otwock) towards the north-east. We have captured prisoners and a large quantity of war material.

RED ARMIES RETREATING.

A Warsaw telegram, dated Tuesday, states—The general situation of the two armies has undergone little change. On the 14th inst. the Poles were in a critical position. The Bolshevik centre had reached the exterior forts of the Warsaw defences. The following day the Poles launched a huge counter offensive, and cleared the north bank of the Narew, and yesterday captured the bridgehead of the Sorock. The Reds beat a precipitate retreat, leaving considerable booty. The operations on the Polish right wing are proceeding according to plan. The report of the formation of a Separatist Government in Posnania is officially contradicted.

A Paris telegram, dated Tuesday, states:—The newspapers publish a Warsaw telegram stating that the Polish counter-offensive, in which French officers are taking part, has developed very successfully. Warsaw is considered now out of danger.

The Petit Parisien's correspondent says that if the Polish soldiers really wish to fight, the measures taken are quite adequate to secure Warsaw against capture.

FRANCE AND THE SUPPLY OF MUNITIONS.

A telegram from Paris on Wednesday states: Telegrams of yesterday's date from Warsaw received in American circles here state that the Poles, who had been beginning to repeat the old despairing cry of 1831, "God is too high, and France is too far," have plucked up their spirits, fortified by the counsel of France's most expert soldiers, and the happy effect of the change has been seen.

While it is too soon to forecast the final result of the great struggle which is now raging under the walls of the capital, the Poles seem to be still retaining the advantage that they gained on Saturday. Everything depends on the ability of the Poles to maintain the offensive, and it is regarded in Warsaw as a hopeful sign that the Moscow wireless has been unusually silent.

The news that Sir Reginald Tower, High Commissioner of the Allies at Danzig, has prohibited the landing at that port of further cargoes of French munitions for Poland evokes very sharp criticism here. It is stated that the French Government may address a protest to the British Government on the subject.

DANZIG CORRIDOR CLEARED.

According to a report received in Paris yesterday from the French Military Mission at Warsaw the Polish counter-offensive, based on Thorn, has successfully cleared the Danzig corridor, and the Polish troops are still continuing their advance eastward.

WOMEN IN THE FIGHTING LINE.

From an authoritative source Reuter learns that the second counter-offensive on the part of the Poles in the region of Thorn, in the Danzig corridor, is reported to be progressing well, and to be having the result of clearing the railway, which had been occupied by Bolshevik troops. Considerable numbers of women troops are co-operating in this successful movement.

A Times telegram, dated Thorn, Tuesday, states:—Thorn, which is one of the oldest German fortresses on the Vistula, is preparing steadily for its defence should the Bolsheviks reach it. Everywhere are posters calling on the Poles to defend their fatherland. The news from Warsaw must have improved, and trains are running again to Danzig. I learn that Polish troops near the City of Warsaw are very numerous, and that the defence is likely to be more effective than was formerly expected.

DON COSSACKS AND GENERAL WRANGEL.

The Times Constantinople Correspondent, telegraphing on Monday, says:—A large area of the Don Cossack country north of Rostoff has declared its independence, and is allied with General Wrangel, but it is not clear whether the insurgents and the raiding force from Taganrog have yet linked up with Wrangel's main force. On the Dnieper front Bolshevist aircraft recently made a number of bombing raids, a new departure for them in this theatre, where their aircraft have hitherto played a very passive rôle.

NO NEWS IN POLAND.

Reuter's Agency understands that no Polish report of the proceedings at Minsk has been received, or is likely to be received, as the Polish Government, up to yesterday evening, was out of touch with the delegation. The Russians state that the atmospheric conditions are a hindrance to free wireless communication.

THE EGYPTIAN PROBLEM.

HOPES OF ULTIMATE SETTLEMENT.

Reuter's Agency learns that Saad Pasha Taghloul left London for France on Monday morning. It is understood that his Egyptian colleagues are returning to France and Egypt on Thursday. The result of the conversations between them and the Special Mission to Egypt has been to reveal a very considerable measure of agreement on fundamental points, and will, it is hoped, greatly facilitate the ultimate settlement of the Egyptian problem. It is probable that at a later stage negotiations of a more formal nature will take place between accredited representatives of the British and Egyptian Governments.

A PROTEST AGAINST WAR.

STRIKE IN UPPER SILESIA.

UGLY INCIDENT AT KATTOWITZ.

A Berlin message, dated Tuesday, states that a Beuthen telegram reports a demonstration strike against the Russo-Polish war yesterday in all towns of Upper Silesia. The electricity, gas, and water supplies and the postal services were held up, and all restaurants were closed. Meetings were held by the trades unions, which adopted resolutions protesting against the war, urging neutrality and demanding the setting up of a commission to control the transport of troops.

Disturbances, ending in bloodshed, are reported from Kattowitz and Rybrik. At Kattowitz the crowd attacked the French cavalry and killed a trooper. The French troops opened fire with machine guns and hand grenades, killing nine persons and wounding twenty-six. A lawyer, a leader of the Poles, having thrown a hand grenade from a window, was dragged from his house, killed, and thrown into the river. Following upon negotiations with the trade unions, the French troops were withdrawn. At Rybrik Polish troops broke up a meeting, killing one person and wounding four.

A semi-official account of yesterday's rioting says that the crowds, despite the warnings of their leaders, insisted on forcing their way down the Friedrich Strasse, where there was a cordon of police and French cavalry, and gathered in front of buildings where the Inter-Allied Commission was sitting. The French troops drew their sabres and dispersed the gathering. Almost immediately afterwards the crowd assembled again. At this moment a fresh procession, composed of students from the high schools, entered the already thronged street, and the pressure drove the demonstrators against the cordon. Shots were fired, and the crowd broke wildly in all directions. The Inter-Allied Commission has forbidden five papers in Upper Silesia to be published for a week.

THE COUNCIL OF ACTION.

RETURN OF THE BRITISH DELEGATES.

Mr. Adamson and Mr. Gosling, the delegates of the Council of Action who were requested to leave France on Tuesday, reached London yesterday evening on their return from France. A sub-committee of the Council of Action will consider the French Government's action in requesting the British Labour delegates to leave France, and a statement will be made to the Council of Action at their meeting on Friday. Until then no official statement will be made.

MR. CLYNES AND THE COUNCIL.

Mr. Clynes, at Oxford last night, said that the whole case for the Council of Action was found in the Prime Minister's statement, when he warned the country that a grave situation had been created. The answer to the question, What was all the fuss about and were they not agreed? was that the timely, definite, spontaneous action of Labour gave to the Government such a national signal as to compel it to travel upon the road of peace. He did not admit unconstitutional action.

THE EXPULSION OF THE BRITISH DELEGATES.

Interviewed by the Humanite, Mr. Adamson said—We have full confidence in the good results of our visit here, and we hope our French comrades of the trade unions and party will see, as we do, the absolute necessity for unity at this time. Nothing could better demonstrate that unity is possible than recent events in Great Britain. Our unity has created a tremendous impression. Within 24 hours we received 1,700 telegrams of congratulation. Our battle is not so much with our Government as with reaction, and we shall win.

Mr. Gosling said—We can derive a great lesson from these events. We have taken the measure of our strength and unity. If the present unity is maintained for a few months the Labour party, now second in Parliamentary importance, may come into power. In order to seal the union I shall propose at the next Convention in September a motion in favour of appointing a permanent Committee of Control to follow all affairs, both economic and political, of national interest.

Mr. Adamson, replying to a question, said—We have shown that in times of crisis we can unite rapidly. As to our expulsion, that will help us to an incredible extent.

COMMENT IN FRANCE.

The Petit Parisien states that Messrs. Adamson and Gosling requested the C.G.T. and the Socialist party to set up a Council of Action in Paris to facilitate the taking of international action against war. Representatives of the Socialist party were favourable to the proposal, but the C.G.T. reserved the matter for discussion by its executive, which last night decided to instruct M. Jouhaux to proceed to Amsterdam this morning to determine upon some form of international action.

A Paris telegram, dated Wednesday, states—The Humanite announces that the Parliamentary group of the Socialist party held a meeting last night, and decided to demand an immediate convocation of Parliament, when they intend to lodge an interpellation on what was described as the "odious and provocative measure taken against our British comrades," and also on the illegal and criminal acts perpetrated for three years against the Russian revolution.

The Times says:—It is now becoming measurably clear that the Council of Action, if it should proceed to extreme measures, will not call a general strike in support of Soviet Russia. The policy of the Council would be directed instead to placing a veto on the manufacture of munitions and equipment and to a refusal to carry war material or troops to the ports.

TO PREVENT WAR.

A Paris telegram, dated Wednesday, says:—M. Leon Jouhaux, Secretary General of the General Confederation of Labour, left this morning for Amsterdam to attend a meeting of the International Trade Union, of which he is one of the vice-presidents. The principal points of discussion at this meeting will be the methods to be employed for the application of the measures contemplated by the International Federation of Trade Unions to prevent in the case of war the manufacture of arms and munitions, and the working of land, sea, and river transport services. It is stated that German delegates will attend the Conference.

LOCAL GOVERNMENT IN IRELAND.

PROPOSED SINN FEIN "COMMISSION OF INQUIRY."

In a circular addressed to Republican members of the Irish local governing bodies, which was read at Monday night's meeting of the Athy Urban Council, Dail Eireann wrote that a "Commission of Inquiry" into local government in Ireland would shortly open, when every phase of the subject would be considered. Evidence was invited, and serious consideration was directed to the "Commission," which would be of paramount importance. The Council adjourned the question, with a view to the appointment of witnesses to give evidence before the "Commission."

THE DAIL'S SHEEP-DIPPING REGULATIONS.

A circular was read at the meeting of Athy Urban Council, from the "Assistant Minister" of the "Local Government Department" of Dail Eireann, stating that declarations of sheep-dipping could be had from the County Council offices. Sheep breeders were asked "to bring forms, so completed, to fairs and markets, so that there could be no interference with the sale or shipping of sheep stock."

URBAN COUNCIL AND REPUBLICAN "COURTS."

At a meeting of the Carrickmacross Urban Council on Monday evening, non-compliance with sanitary notices served on the agent for house property in town, and the existence of an alleged nuisance at other premises, were reported. It was ordered that both parties be summoned to the local Republican "Court," unless the works were carried out forthwith.

COMPENSATION CLAIMS IGNORED.

Bailieboro' Guardians decided to ignore the malicious injury claim for £400 of Mr. James G. Graham, Bailieboro', for the burning of his motor car by a number of men at Skeagh, near Bailieboro'. A claim by the driver, J. Moore, for damage to spectacles and an overcoat on the same occasion was also ignored.

GALWAY COUNTY COUNCIL'S FINANCES.

The Galway County Council yesterday (Miss Alice Cashel, Vice-Chairman, presiding) decided not to send the minutes of its proceedings to the Local Government Board in future, following the stoppage of grants by the Local Government Board, and the backward state of the rate collection. The Council decided to hold a special meeting next Tuesday to consider its financial position. Only 22 per cent. of the rates are collected this year, as against 40 per cent. last year, and the Council is £4,450 in debt to the bank. Bills to the amount of £88,000 were paid, and the Secretary announced that the rates up to the end of next March would amount to £195,127.

REPUBLICAN "MAGISTRATES" AND ASYLUM COMMITTEES.

At yesterday's meeting the Galway County Council called on the Ballinasloe Asylum Committee to instruct its officials to admit patients on the committal order of "Republican magistrates" with a doctor's certificate, a complaint having been received that patients so sent had been refused admission.

PORTADOWN COUNCIL'S LOYALTY.

At a meeting of the Portadown Urban Council on Tuesday night (Mr. R. Anderson, J.P., presiding), a letter was received from Mr. A. R. Barlas, Secretary of the Local Government Board, acknowledging the receipt of the Council's letter of the 4th inst., conveying an assurance that the Portadown Urban Council were prepared, as heretofore, to conform to the rules and orders of the Board and of His Majesty's Government. The Board desired him to state, the letter said, that they never doubted for a moment that the Portadown Urban Council would comply with the law, and to point out that if the Council would again read the Board's circular letter of the 29th ult. they would observe that the undertaking referred to was asked for only from those local authorities which had passed resolutions repudiating the authority of the Imperial Parliament.

CO. LOUTH COMPENSATION CLAIMS.

Claims have been lodged with the Louth County Council for the following amounts:—Mrs. Rose Murphy, for the Blackrock Police Barracks, £3,000; furniture at Carlingford Courthouse, £15; G.N.R., for injuries to two lorries, £50. The County Council have decided not to defend these claims.

SINN FEINERS ARRESTED IN CO. CLARE.

Our Ennis Correspondent states:—On Tuesday night the military visited the houses of prominent Sinn Feiners in Ennis, and made exhaustive searches, but it has not transpired whether anything was discovered. Mr. H. Guinane, Secretary of the East Clare Executive of Sinn Fein, was arrested at his residence, Kilrush road, and a young man named R. Lillis, a shop assistant, and R. O'Leary were also taken into custody and detained until yesterday morning. The houses visited included those of T. V. Honan, President of the East Clare Executive of Sinn Fein, and D. McFarland, a prominent member of the local Arbitration Court.

DERRY NATIONALIST MAGISTRATES.

A meeting of the Nationalist magistrates of Londonderry has been summoned "to consider their position in regard to the present administration of the law in the country."

THE SITUATION IN MESOPOTAMIA.

GENERAL CONDITIONS IMPROVED.

RAILWAY COMMUNICATION RESTORED.

Reuter's Agency learns that no confirmation has been received in well-informed circles in London of the report from Bagdad, through Paris, to the effect that the situation in Mesopotamia has become worse; that the rebels are endeavouring to surround Bagdad, and that the railway has again been cut in several places. The situation last week was admittedly serious, but the most recent reports indicate that the general situation is substantially better. Communication between Bagdad and Persia and on the Bagdad-Hilla and Bagdad-Shergat-Mosul Railways has been restored.

RUSSIAN ROYAL FAMILY.

THEIR CAPTIVITY AND MURDER.

AN AUTHORITATIVE ACCOUNT.

The Press Association is indebted to the courtesy of the editor of The Times for the following extract from the first instalment (which it publishes to-day) of the authoritative account of the captivity and murder of the Tsar, his wife, and children, received from that journal's Special Correspondent, recently in Siberia.

The writer says—At Ekaterinburg, on the night of July 16th, 1916, the Imperial Family and their faithful attendants, eleven persons in all, were led into a small room in the house where they had been imprisoned, and shot to death with revolvers. There had been no trial of any kind. Before their death, the captives were subjected to ill-treatment, amounting to horrible torture, mental if not physical. After death the bodies were taken to the woods and completely destroyed. These attacks had been premeditated, and the murders elaborately planned.

It is established, beyond doubt, that the ex-Tsar fell a victim to his loyalty. He had refused offers from the enemies of Russia's Allies, proposing that he should endorse the Treaty of Brest-Litovsk. Attempts to inveigle him into an unholy alliance undoubtedly preceded the murder. All the Romanoffs who died violent deaths were, like the Tsar, inconvenient to German as well as to international plans.

THE SCENE OF THE MURDERS.

Proceeding to describe the steps that he took in order to investigate the real facts of the Tsar's case—in which he came into touch with M. Sokolov, the investigating magistrate, who had been specially appointed by Koltchak to conduct the inquiry into the circumstances of the crime—The Times Special Correspondent says—I visited the house where the victims had lived. It belonged to a certain Ipatiev, a merchant, who held the rank of captain in the Engineers. The small basement room, the scene of the murders, was sealed up. I saw it a few days later, when Sokolov took me over the premises, explaining, step by step, the enactment of the tragedy. We stood in the little room, noted the trace of the bullets, the direction of the bayonet thrusts, and the splashes of blood on the walls. The room had been a shambles, and all the washing and scouring that, according to the evidence, had followed the murders could not remove the tell-tale signs.

Soon afterwards I was in the woods, ten miles north of the city, where the peasants had found jewellery and other relics of the murdered family. I saw the tracks, still clear, of heavy lorries crashing through the trees to a group of disused iron ore shafts. All went in one direction, ceasing near a pit, round which a vast collection of clues had been discovered—precious stones, pearls, beautiful settings of gold and platinum, some hacked and broken, and bearing traces of fire; metal buckles, hooks, buttons, corset frames, pieces of charred leather and cloth, a human finger intact, a set of false teeth.

WHAT THE PEASANTS SAW.

The character, condition, and numbers of these various articles were in themselves sufficient to indicate the sex and ages of the victims, and the manner in which their bodies had been disposed of. The first on the scene had been the peasants. For three days and nights they were cut off from the city by a cordon of Red Guards placed around the wood. Knowing that the Whites were at hand, they thought that the Reds were burying arms. Vague rumours had reached them of the death of Nicholas II. As soon as the cordon had been removed they rushed to the spot. Woodcraft and native astuteness quickly opened their eyes. "It is the Tsar that they have been burning here," they declared.

BUILDING TRADE IN ENGLAND.

SPEEDING-UP EFFORTS.

An official report was issued by the Board of Trade last night of the conference between the Cabinet Committee and the Resettlement Committee of the Joint Industrial Council of the building trades, which was held in London on Tuesday. The report states that the Resettlement Committee agreed that certain sections of the industry require immediate augmentation, and stated that they were alive to the need for an increased output, and were prepared to do everything possible to obtain that end, but they were not prepared to accept the methods of augmentation suggested by the Government, and they definitely rejected the proposals for a system of payment by results and for up grading. They made counter-proposals for augmenting the supply of labour by the introduction of adult apprentices. They accepted, in principle, the Cabinet proposals in regard to overtime, subject to adequate safeguards. They made suggestions in regard to the distribution of contracts, and pledged the industry to support the Government in preventing unfair competition, through the offer of special inducements, designed to attract building labour to the detriment of housing schemes.

The Resettlement Committee are considering proposals for indemnifying operatives against loss of time through stress of weather, and, pending the adoption of those proposals, they agreed that the Government might at once guarantee such indemnification on housing schemes.

In summing up the discussion, Sir Robert Horne said that the counter-proposal would give some help in the present situation, but not a great deal, and certainly not anything like enough to meet the very great difficulty of the present situation. Therefore, it was plain that merely to bring up the number of apprentices, who ordinarily only repair the wastage of the trade, was not going to solve the problem at all. The crucial fact was that to-day there were great masses of people clamouring for housing accommodation, and cannot get it. He accepted the suggestion that they should do nothing that day of a final character, and that they should have further consultation upon the matter, but it must be rapid and expeditious.

In accordance with the agreement arrived at, Dr. Addison is arranging to supply the Resettlement Committee with further proposals on behalf of the Government

DILUTION QUESTION.

At the quarterly meeting of the Institute of Plumbers at Leicester yesterday, the President, Mr. Cox, of Knutsford, announced that the building industry had submitted a counter-scheme to the Government's proposals for the dilution of labour, which the industry considered impracticable. The industry's scheme would provide for the introduction of men apprentices, and, if that was accepted, upwards of 100,000 men would be absorbed. But, unlike the Government's scheme, they would not be considered fully qualified until they had completed three or four years' apprenticeship.

The Minister of Health, in an official announcement, states that he is convinced that the high tenders for building houses now being received by many local authorities are not justified by the facts. In future, in such cases, unless it is evident that a tender can readily be brought within a reasonable figure, the local authority will be warned by the Commissioners to reject it without further delay, and to prepare alternative proposals which will reduce the cost to reasonable limits.

THE BOYCOTT OF BELFAST.

INISHOWEN COUNCIL AND THE ACTION.

The Inishowen Rural District Council have passed a resolution approving of a stringent boycott of all Belfast trading concerns until such time "as the thousands of workmen and workwomen who have been forcibly driven from their employment in that city are reinstated." As a sequel to this Belfast firms' representatives who visited Carndonagh on Monday were allowed ten minutes to pack up and clear out.

A considerable number of the workers expelled from the Belfast shipyards have been able to secure employment elsewhere in Belfast, while a number have taken temporary positions in Great Britain. There are still a number who have not yet been able to secure employment, and trade unions are allowing them weekly grants.

When a parish arbitration court assembled at Carrick-on-Shannon on Tuesday night four policemen endeavoured to obtain admission, but were refused. Several cases were adjourned on the application of solicitors or their representatives.

The military have detained a man named Durnan, and released five others whom they arrested at Kingscourt, Co. Cavan. The prisoners were asked to give an account of their movements on the 8th July last, and it is believed that the arrests were in connection with a raid for arms which took place on that date on the premises of the Rev. Mr. Stack, Rector, Magheracloone.

MILITARY ATTACKED IN CO. CORK.

SHOTS AT CYCLIST PATROL.

TWO SOLDIERS REPORTED WOUNDED.

Our Macroom Correspondent telegraphs:—A military cyclist patrol, consisting of an officer and about 15 men, was attacked near Ballyvourney yesterday. Full details are lacking, but it is understood that at least two soldiers were badly wounded.

THE SHOOTING AFFRAY NEAR KANTURK.

SINN FEIN DISPLAY AT VOLUNTEERS' FUNERALS.

Our Kanturk Correspondent states:—Dr. M. Ryan, Coroner, attended at Kanturk yesterday for the purpose of holding an inquest on Private Albert George Nunn (20), a native of Chesterfield, England, who was shot dead in an encounter at Clonbanin with a number of armed men, who attempted to obtain possession of an aeroplane, over which Nunn formed one of the guard. The remains were conveyed to Kanturk Royal Irish Constabulary Barracks, and were subsequently removed to the local Church of Ireland. The necessary number of jurors failed to attend the inquest, and permission was given for the interment of the body.

The other soldier wounded in the affray has almost recovered.

A remarkable demonstration took place yesterday at Kanturk in connection with the funeral of the Volunteer officers, Messrs. P. J. Clancy and J. O'Connell, who, it was officially stated, were shot recently near the town by the military, upon whom they fired in an effort to escape arrest. The funeral was of very large dimensions. The coffins were draped with Republican flags, on which rested a cap and other insignia of the deceased men. A guard of honour was furnished by the local Volunteers. Over two thousand Volunteers were present, and marched after the remains in companies. The town was congested, as were the roads leading to it for a considerable distance, with vehicles of all descriptions. It was estimated that there were over 500 cars and 5,000 pedestrians in the procession, besides hundreds of cyclists, and a large number of motorists. The first funeral to start was that of the young man Clancy, for Kilfinane, via Charleville. The other funeral left in the afternoon for Dromtariffe. All the houses in the town were closed.

Mr. Clancy was one of the County Councillors for the Kanturk electoral area, and Vice-Chairman of the Kanturk Rural District Council. He spent a term of imprisonment in Wormwood Scrubbs. He was "Deputy Vice-Commandant" of the Cork Second Brigade of the "Irish Republican Army." He was a little over 30 years of age.

Mr. O'Connell was somewhat younger. He was at business in Kanturk, and was "Commandant" of the local battalion, "Irish Republican Army."

EX-SERVICEMAN'S DEATH IN LIMERICK.

INQUEST FALLS THROUGH.

Dr. M. R. Cleary, J.P., Coroner for East Limerick, attended at the Limerick Union yesterday for the purpose of holding an inquest on the body of Edward Paget, 43, an Englishman, and an ex-service man, who died in the Workhouse Hospital on Monday night as the result of injuries alleged to have been inflicted on him during Sunday's disturbances. Paget, who was a married man, with a family, served with the Royal Irish Regiment during the war, and the ex-service men in the city are interesting themselves in his case.

After waiting for three-quarters of an hour, the Coroner said that only ten jurors had answered the summons to attend the inquiry, and accordingly there would be no inquest. He gave an order for the removal of the body.

The ex-service men of the city and district are arranging to give Paget a public funeral to-day.

SEARCHES BY THE MILITARY.

Early yesterday morning a party of military, with two officers, raided the residence of Mr. James McInerney, Broad street, a Councillor of the Limerick Corporation, and searched the premises.

CO. ARMAGH CIVILIAN'S DEATH.

JURY'S REMARKABLE VERDICT.

At Mullabawn (Co. Armagh) yesterday afternoon Mr. J. F. Small, Coroner, resumed the inquest into the circumstances connected with the death of Peter Charles McCreesh, Aughanduff, who was shot dead following an Aeridheacht in Cullyhanna on the evening of Sunday, June 6th. On the same occasion Sergeant Holland, who was in charge of two constables, was wounded in five places, and died in a few days. In a dying statement the sergeant stated that seven men passed in front of the police, called on them to put up their hands, and when the police refused to do so the men fired into the crowd. He had not drawn his pistol until he had been twice injured. Constable Rossdale, who was with the sergeant, was shot in the head, and is still in the Louth Infirmary. The other constable, Rafferty, is still under medical care.

Dr. McBride gave evidence that Constable Rafferty's condition would not permit of his attending.

Evidence was given by Patrick McCreesh, brother of the dead man, that they had been sitting on a wall opposite to where the police were. They heard shots, and his brother said, "It is time to be out of here." They then saw Sergeant Holland walk backwards down the street, firing from his pistol as he went. His brother moved to get out of the way, and was shot in the back. He died in three minutes.

In cross-examination by Mr. Johnston, solicitor for the police, the witness said that he heard several shots being fired, but he did not see any civilians fire. The only person he saw fire was the sergeant. He did not see an injured civilian lie on the roadway, nor did he hear a crowd of men ordering the police to put up their hands.

Can you account for the fact that there were seven shots in the sergeant? I do not know anything about that.

Mr. Johnston said that he never saw a witness who wriggled more, and Mr. Collins, solicitor for the next-of-kin, objected to this remark, stating that the witness was telling all that he saw.

Frank Murphy, who was with the deceased and his brother, corroborated, and added that the deceased was not armed.

In cross-examination he denied that he was afraid to say that he had seen civilians fire at the police.

In his address to the jury Mr. Johnston said that, without the slightest warning, a desperate attack had been made on the police by men whom he had no hesitation in describing as a gang of assassins. If the jury had the backbone of a slug they would condemn this attack on the police, the more diabolical because it was made on an occasion when hundreds of innocent people might have been injured.

The jury returned a verdict of death from shock, following hæmorrhage, caused by a bullet fired from the revolver of Sergeant Holland, by Sergeant Holland. They tendered sympathy to the relatives, and added—"We condemn the sending of police to such gatherings as the Cullyhanna Aeridheacht, believing that their presence there, in the present state of affairs, causes trouble."

THE LATE DISTRICT INSPECTOR WILSON.

TEMPLEMORE MAGISTRATES' SYMPATHY.

At Templemore Petty Sessions yesterday the Chairman, Captain Carden, D.L., addressing County Inspector Dunlop, said that it was the unanimous wish of the magistrates that the Court should be adjourned without transacting any business, as a mark of respect to the late Mr. Wilson, District Inspector. On behalf of his brother magistrates, he wished to express their regret and sorrow at the loss of such a capable officer, and to condemn the crime which caused it. He was intimately acquainted with Mr. Wilson. He knew him to be kindly, honest, and courageous. He did his duty without fear or favour. He moved the following resolution:—"We, the magistrates at Templemore Petty Sessions, desire to express to Mrs. Wilson our deep sorrow at the death of the late District Inspector Wilson, R.I.C., and we offer to Mrs. Wilson and the members of her family our most sincere sympathy with them in their sad bereavement."

Dr. Mitchell joined in the resolution of sympathy, and in feeling words referred to his being present when Mr. Wilson breathed his last.

County Inspector Dunlop joined in the expression of condolence, and the Court adjourned.

ILLEGAL POSSESSION OF SHOT GUNS.

Subsequently Major Colley, R.M., and Colonel Warren, R.M., held a special Court, before which Michael Morris, Borrisoleigh, was summoned for having a shot gun and some ammunition in his dwellinghouse without having a permit on 24th July last. He was fined £3, or in default two months' imprisonment. He refused to pay the fine.

John Young, Borrisoleigh, was also summoned for having a shot gun in his house on the same date. The gun was found in parts; it was produced, and appeared to be a worthless piece. He was fined £1. Young had been arrested, and had been three weeks in prison. The fine was paid.

Many of the people left their homes on Tuesday night, fearing a renewal of the reprisals.

SPECIAL EXTRA.

THE BOLSHEVIST DEFEAT AT WARSAW.

A telegram, dated Warsaw, Wednesday, says:—After allowing the Bolsheviks to approach the outer forts of the town, the Poles opened a counter-attack on both sides. The force under Marshal Pilsudski repulsed the enemy along the whole line from the River Wieprz to the Narew, to a depth of from 40 to 80 kilometres, and reached Parovew. Both counter-attacks were successful. The right bank of the Lower Narew was cleared, and the natural line of defence of Warsaw was re-established. The attack along the Warsaw-Danzig Railway was carried beyond Ciechanow.

FRENCH PREMIER AND POLAND'S CAUSE.

A Paris telegram yesterday states:—M. Millerand presided at a luncheon, at Rheims to-day, to the Knights of Columbus, who have come to France to present a statue of Lafayette to the City of Metz.

Replying to cordial speeches, in which the Polish cause was enthusiastically alluded to, M. Millerand said—I am happy to greet here representatives of the American ideal and the French ideal. You have come to make a holy pilgrimage in the country where your brothers fell by the side of our children in the cause of justice and right. This cause, that we have defended by force of arms, we shall not abandon now that the war has ended. The Americans feel, as well as we do, that they have not finished their task with the heroic combats they have fought at our side, because they know well that the war is only the commencement of a new era. Like us, they do not pronounce without respect the name of a martyred people which for 150 years has been rent asunder. The forces of America, joined with the forces of the Allies, have enabled Poland to come forth from her tomb, and we shall not permit her to go back to it. In that respect, as in every other, we defend the cause for which we armed ourselves.

THE FIGHTING AT KATTOWITZ.

A telegram from Berlin on Wednesday night says:—A Kattowitz telegram to the Deutsche Allgemeine Zeitung puts the casualties in yesterday night's street fighting at 18 killed, including nine Frenchmen. Martial law has been proclaimed. An eye-witness informed the correspondent of the Acht Uhr Blatt that a Polish lady doctor named Milewski was lynched and her body thrown into the river by the crowd, who were of the impression that a hand grenade had been thrown from her house.

UNITED STATES AND HELP FOR POLAND.

A telegram from Washington yesterday says:—Mr. Colby, replying to a delegation of Poles regarding the question of United States help for Poland, assured them of the sympathy of the United States and its desire to render Poland all aid possible under the law, which he, however, intimated would be very little. He added that since the Senate had refused to ratify the Treaty of Versailles the United States was unable to send substantial aid to Poland, but it would do everything that it was permitted to do. The delegation consisted of hundreds of naturalised Poles. Their spokesman thanked President Wilson for Mr. Colby's Note on Russia, which, he said, had helped the morale of the Polish soldiers, and had given a new hope to the Polish nation, but he urged that material aid should be given on the ground that the United States was in danger of being submerged by a Bolshevik wave.

THE ATTACK ON DISTRICT INSPECTOR MURPHY.

Our Midleton Correspondent states:—It was reported at Midleton on Tuesday that shots were fired at District Inspector Murphy, R.I.C., Midleton, and his son, Joseph Murphy, who were cycling on their way home to Midleton from Carlisle Fort. Both gentlemen escaped. It is stated that while passing through Whitewell, five miles from Midleton, in a motor bicycle, a party of men called on Mr. Murphy to stop. Mr. Murphy disregarded the order and increased his speed. Shots were fired after them, and his son narrowly escaped being struck.

SCENE AT WATERFORD RAILWAY STATION.

MILITARY DRAFT COMPELLED TO TRAVEL BY STEAMER.

Our Waterford Correspondent telegraphs:—About 130 men of the Devonshire Regiment, on draft for India, were held up here on Tuesday at the Dublin and South-Eastern Railway Station. The men were unarmed, carrying their kit bags only. The draft were to entrain by the 2.25 mail train for the North Wall, but the railway officials refused to allow more than thirty unarmed military by any one train. A detachment remained on the train, taking possession of the carriages, mail, and goods vans. Later they boarded the 5.15 train to Dublin, but again the railway officials refused to proceed. The military then refused to hand out the mail bags to the postman in charge, but eventually the bags were given on the intervention of the police. Ultimately, about 7 p.m., the draft, with two bands, marched to Waterford quay, and were conveyed by the ss. Waterford to Fishguard.

ARMED RAID ON BANBRIDGE GARAGE.

MOTOR CAR TAKEN.

Early yesterday morning, in Banbridge, a raid was made by a number of armed men, who broke into the motor garage of Mr. J. McKee at Linenhall street, and took away one of his Ford motor cars and a quantity of petrol. The streets were deserted at the time, and it was comparatively easy for the raiders to gain access to the garage, which is situated in an isolated part of the town. It is stated that when the raiders had made good their escape, in the direction of Rathfriland road, they signalised their success by a salvo of revolver shots.

A peculiar incident in connection with the raid was that cars belonging to private owners were moved out of the way for the purpose of securing this particular car. The matter was reported to the police.

At Bow street, London, yesterday, Sam Appleton, of Bolton, and Nellie Greenough, of Blackpool, were committed for trial on a charge of having conspired to defeat the ends of justice. An allegation was made that the defendant, in the name of James Lewis, gave false evidence in the divorce proceedings brought by Nellie Greenough against her husband, by which a decree nisi was obtained. The King's Proctor intervened, and the decree was rescinded.

CASE OF DR. MANNIX.

PROTEST AT MANCHESTER.

SINN FEIN LEADER AND PEACE.

A meeting to protest against the treatment of Archbishop Mannix was held last night in Manchester. The proceedings began with a gathering in St. Patrick's Hall, a building capable of holding 2,500 people, situated in a working-class district of the city. Crowds began to assemble an hour before the time fixed for the meeting, and the hall was soon packed. Those unable to gain admission held meetings in the open air. During the day Mr. George Clancy, Chairman of the Manchester branch of the Irish Self-Determination League, forwarded to Archbishop Mannix a telegram, inviting His Grace to attend the meeting, or one to be held on Sunday. The Archbishop, in reply, telegraphed: "Grateful thanks. Manchester is worthy of the compliment paid it by Lloyd George."

An address prepared for presentation to the Archbishop said: "Your fellow-exiles, irrespective of class or creed, express the righteous indignation that the unwarranted and calculated insult to your dignity as an illustrious prelate of the Catholic Church has stirred up within us. We pledge the allegiance of our hearts and the activities of our minds to those noble ideals of which the Irish Republic is the embodiment."

Monsignor Provost Lynch presided, and throughout the proceedings were marked with enthusiasm.

The Chairman said that he protested energetically and strongly against the insult and the injustice offered to one of the greatest men of their faith and their race on the occasion of his intended visit to his aged mother, whom he had not seen for seven years. (Prolonged cheers.) The Archbishop was a leader of the Labour Party in Australia. An insult to him was an insult to the Labour Party in England, and the Labour Party in England should see to it.

Mr. Sean Milroy, Director of the Sinn Fein Organisation, proposed a resolution condemning "the malicious treatment of Archbishop Mannix by the British Government on account of his intrepid stand in favour of self-determination for Ireland," and demanding the immediate removal of the ban which prohibits him from entering his native land or Manchester and other cities. He said that false statements about the aims of Sinn Fein had been circulated in Manchester with the object of causing bad blood. He hoped that it would not succeed, and that good order would prevail. Archbishop Mannix, he continued, was not ill-treated because he was a Churchman. If he were, that singular aloofness of the members of the English Hierarchy from Dr. Mannix since his arrival in England would require explanation. He was ill-treated because of his action as an Irishman in expounding the rights of his nation. (Cheers.) Of Poland Mr. Lloyd George had said that she had chosen her own government by her suffrage, and it was intolerable that any Government from outside should impose upon her a government that she did not want. The Irish people had chosen their form of government by universal suffrage, and, therefore, they said it was intolerable for any country to endeavour to impose upon Ireland a form of government which she did not want. (Cheers.) The form of government which they wanted was an Irish Republic. It was already in existence, and could not be changed except as a result of a change of the minds of the Irish people themselves. (Cheers.) The English Press and politicians would have the world believe that those who were fighting for Ireland's liberty were a band of dissolute and reckless ruffians, who had no respect for law and order, but the obvious fact in Ireland to-day was that only where the Irish Republic functioned did law and order prevail.

Mr. Milroy continued:—"England will have a hostile Ireland on her flank as long and just as long as she treats Ireland as a hostile country. She can have peace as soon as she cares for it, but it must be peace with honour, peace which recognises that the Irish nation exists, and that the Irish people have a right to frame their own Constitution."

The motion was seconded and carried with enthusiasm.

Afterwards a torchlight procession, in which many thousands of people of both sexes took part, marched through some of the streets of the city.

THE VATICAN AND DR. MANNIX.

A telegram from Rome yesterday says:—The Popolo Romano says:—Information sent by English Catholics to the Vatican confirms the Curia in the conviction that the Holy See should not intervene in the Archbishop Mannix incident.

DUBLIN GUARDIANS AND DR. MANNIX.

At the weekly meeting of the Dublin Guardians yesterday—Mr. M. Foley, Chairman, presiding—Miss Oates moved a resolution indignantly protesting against the impudent action of the British Government in preventing Archbishop Mannix from visiting his native land. They also wished to express their high esteem and gratitude for the noble fight which he had made in defence of Ireland's right, and they hoped soon to welcome him on the soil of the Irish Republic. She stated that the British Government were always talking about small nationalities, and the only reason that they acted as they did towards Dr. Mannix was because he had the courage to do what they were always talking about—he fought for small nationalities.

Mr. T. Nolan seconded.

Mrs. Evans said that she held the opinion that the British Government had acted very silly, but the Guardians were there to protect the poor, and not for passing political motions.

Mr. Beck, as a Protestant, supported the motion. The Government thought that, by stopping Archbishop Mannix from coming to Ireland, they would provoke the Irish people into rebellion.

Mr. Hely refrained from expressing an opinion, as the motion was political. He expressed appreciation of the work of the Board.

Mr. Nolan denied that the motion was political. Dr. Mannix was not coming to Ireland on a political mission.

Mrs. Evans—If it is not a political move, I am heartily with it.

The resolution was unanimously adopted.

THE CORK HUNGER-STRIKERS.

THREATENED GENERAL STRIKE TO ENFORCE RELEASE.

Our Cork Correspondent telegraphed last night:—The political prisoners in Cork Jail continue on hunger strike, and are reported to be in a weak condition. C. Neenan (Cork), Maurice Crowe (Tipperary), and Crawford (Ballylanders) were removed this morning to the military hospital. All the hunger strikers are in a bad state, the weakest being the four young men from Tralee.

Rumours of a general strike in Cork on Thursday or Friday, to enforce the release of the hunger strikers, gained strength by the fact that last night in the City Hall a protracted conference was held between the Cork Municipal authorities and the Cork Labour leaders. An official report states that a long discussion took place regarding the hunger strikers, and steps were decided upon, which will probably result in serious developments without delay. The conference will remain in existence during the crisis.

THE LORD MAYOR OF CORK IN BRIXTON PRISON.

The Lord Mayor of Cork, who was courtmartialled in Cork on Monday, arrived at Paddington shortly after 11 o'clock yesterday on the Irish mail from Fishguard. He has been hunger-striking since his arrest. He looked ill (says the Star), and was immediately transferred to a private 'bus, and driven to Wormwood Scrubbs Prison. The Lord Mayor was guarded by a strong military escort, but there was no demonstration, his journey having been kept a secret.

"THE IRISH PEACE CONFERENCE."

It is announced that the "Irish Peace Conference" will meet in the Antient Concert Rooms, Dublin, on Tuesday next at 11.30 a.m.

THE IRISH QUESTION.

"AN ILLUSORY COMPROMISE."

The Morning Post, in its issue of the 16th inst., published the following in its editorial columns:—When month after month goes by and brings no change in Ireland but such as proceeds from the steady growth of the malady which is preying upon the country, it is no wonder if people, in their discouragement and weariness, should catch at any nostrum that promises relief. The deadlock is evident enough. The British Government, which has ceased to be the governing power, is ready to grant almost any concession, but is absolutely opposed to Irish separation and independence. The Irish Republicans, who have usurped much of the power of the Government, will be content with nothing less than complete independence. The overtures that are held out to them to come and state their terms, short of this, they treat with a contemptuous silence. But though they call their association the Republic of Ireland they cannot do away with the military garrison and the police, against whom, therefore, they maintain a warfare of outrages which may any day deepen into declared civil war. The Government neither accepts nor declines the challenge, and as it has no policy for the occasion—for the Home Rule Bill need not be seriously regarded in that light—it is left to outsiders to contribute such suggestions as they can. It is in these forlorn circumstances that the proposal of Dominion Home Rule has been gaining a certain amount of support. People seem to think that the idea of being placed on the same basis as Australia and Canada would satisfy the sentiment of the Sinn Feiners. When they had tried the system for a little time they would find the yoke so easy and the burden so light that Ireland would soon become a contented and loyal constituent of the Empire. Under the influence of notions like these an Association called the Unionist Anti-Partition League, at a meeting in Dublin last week, passed a resolution which, while affirming that maintenance of the Union is the policy they regard as the best, yet the increasing disorganisation of the country demands that steps should be taken to settle the question by provisions which, while preserving Ireland within the Empire and safeguarding the security of Britain, should satisfy the desire of the people for self-government with an adequate control of local affairs, including taxation.

To suggest that Ireland, Ireland as a whole, should be placed on a footing of independence as to her own affairs without prejudice to the security of Great Britain, is a degree better than saying that all that is wanted is to create a new spirit of mutual sympathy, but it does not take the question much further practically. The Dominion Home Rule proposal, when it is looked into, does not meet the necessities of the case in any respect. It does not go far enough for the Irish revolutionaries; and it goes too far to be consistent with the security of Britain and the Empire. The main features of the connection between the Mother Country and the Dominions are known to everyone. The group of statutes constituting the Dominions are all modelled on the British North America Act of 1867, by which Canada, New Brunswick, and Nova Scotia were federated. The ties are slight enough, but they agree in the constitutional prominence given to the person of the Sovereign. The Federal Parliament of the Australian Commonwealth consists of the King, a Senate, and a House of Representatives. The King is represented by a Governor-General, who has the power of dissolving Parliament, of making (by the advice of Ministers in practice) appointments in the Services, and is in addition Commander-in-Chief of the naval and military forces. The Sovereign has in every case the absolute, but very rarely exercised, power of veto over legislation, and then there is the right of legal appeal in certain cases to the King in Privy Council. It is evident that the leading idea with those who framed these connections has been to build upon the sentiment of personal loyalty. But this the Sinn Feiners would reject entirely. They have carefully named their Government by anticipation the Republic of Ireland, so that there shall be no chance of their being included within the system of the Empire. They make no pretence, to do them justice, of any wish to go the way of the Dominions. But supposing, for the sake of argument, that they were to swallow the forms of the British connection to get the substance of independence, how would that work out as regards the guarantees of British security? The first result of the establishment of Dominion status would be the withdrawal of the British military forces and their replacement by the troops of the Irish local Government, Lord French, or his successor, alone remaining as honorary Commander-in-Chief. Obviously that idea cannot be entertained by anyone out of Hanwell, with the minds of the Sinn Feiners already fastened on the possession of the western ports with the avowed purpose of converting them into points from which the sea-mastery of England may be assailed.

The Dominions system succeeds because of the sentiment of the Dominions which renders them willing of themselves to be bound by a thread. It cannot be applied to a people who in succession have made themselves the friends of all the enemies of England—Spaniards, Stuarts, Jesuits, the monarchy of Louis XIV., and the French Revolution, German Imperialism, and now the Bolsheviks. What constitutional change is going to conciliate such a people, who still feed on memories of what was done by Elizabeth or Cromwell? The Irish Unionist Alliance have been considering the same question as the Unionist Anti-Partition League, and have come out at a sounder conclusion. "It cannot be too strongly emphasised," their statement concludes, "that there can be no half-way house between the maintenance of the Union and complete separation; and should any 'Dominion Home Rule' measure be introduced it will either be treated with absolute contempt, as is the present Home Rule Bill, or will be used as a step towards the attainment of the ultimate goal—an independent Republic." The Irish themselves are probably too much inflamed in mind by this time to avail themselves of any stepping stone, but nothing would more please those who are working with such deep malevolence against Britain, in this country as in others, than to see the irretrievable step taken under cover of a plausible, misleading phrase.

BELFAST HARBOUR DEVELOPMENT.

BUILDING OF NEW WHARVES.

At the meeting of the Belfast Harbour Board on Tuesday, Mr. R. B. Fair presided in the absence of Mr. H. M. Pollock, D.L., Chairman. The question of proceeding with the building of wharves in the Musgrave Channel for shipbuilding purposes had been considered by the Works Committee, and it was recommended, on the motion of Mr. Williames, seconded by Mr. Cooke, that the engineer be authorised to construct the following wharves:—(a) A wharf, 250 feet long, in the middle of the frontage line of the East side of the Musgrave Channel, on which to land shipbuilding material. (b) A fitting-out wharf, 500 feet long, at the South end of the East side of the Musgrave Channel. (c) A fitting-out wharf, 500 feet long, at the North end of the East side of the Musgrave Channel.

Mr. Alexander Cooke, in moving the adoption of the minutes, said that the only matter calling for attention in the proceedings of the Works Committee related to the construction of certain wharves in the Musgrave Channel. He thought it well to mention that the construction of these wharves was merely an inevitable consequence of the letting to Messrs. Harland and Wolff of the extensive area of ground now forming their new East Yard.

The minutes were adopted.

INCREASE IN TONNAGE.

The Harbour Master's report showed that 328 vessels arrived at the port during the period extending from the 1st to the 14th August, inclusive, as follows:—306 coastwise and cross-Channel, 17 foreign, and 5 non-trading. The tonnage of vessels which arrived from the 1st January to the 14th of August showed a total of 1,677,651, as compared with 1,486,798 for the corresponding period of last year, an increase of 190,853 tons. The aggregate included 1,383,329 coastwise and cross-Channel, as against 1,198,136; foreign 252,126, as against 193,453, and non-trading 42,196, as against 95,209.

FIRE IN PEMBROKE TOWNSHIP.

An outbreak of fire occurred shortly before midnight yesterday in a range of lock-up outbuildings at the rear of the private dwelling-house No. 7 Northumberland road. The premises were occupied by a furniture repairer as a workroom and stores, and when the Pembroke Fire Brigade arrived, under Captain Hutson, the fire had got a good hold on the inflammable material in the place, which is unoccupied at night. The brigade was successful in preventing the fire from spreading to adjoining stables. The damage to the building and contents, which is covered by insurance, is estimated at £600.

PORTADOWN GOLF CLUB PREMISES BURNED.

The clubhouse belonging to the Portadown Golf Club on the links at Seagoe, adjoining the town boundary, was burned to the ground early yesterday morning. The clubs and other property of the members were also destroyed. The origin of the fire is unknown.

CHURCH OF IRELAND Y.M.C.A.

At a meeting of the Committee of the Church of Ireland Y.M.C.A. in Dublin on Tuesday evening a resolution was adopted, on the motion of Mr. Oscar Love, seconded by Mr. W. Clements, conveying to the Primate the respectful good wishes of all the members of the house for his work as chief leader of the Irish Church, and sincerely thanking him for his keen interest in the work of the Association during his residence in Dublin.

DUBLIN HOSPITALS' FETE AND DONKEY RACING.

Sir Henry McLaughlin, organiser of the fund for the Dublin associated hospitals, writes:—"Several requests have reached us from various sources, asking us not to encourage donkey racing in connection with our efforts to raise funds for the Dublin associated hospitals. We wish to state publicly that it is not our intention to hold any such event in connection with our fête at Ballsbridge in October next."

DUBLIN ASSOCIATED HOSPITALS' FUND.

A meeting of the General Committee of Sir Patrick Dun's Stall will be held in the hospital this afternoon at 4.30 o'clock. It is hoped that all members will attend.

DOLLYMOUNT DROWNING ACCIDENT.

DANGEROUS PLACE FOR BATHERS.

An inquest was held yesterday in Jervis Street Hospital, Dublin, by Dr. L. A. Byrne, City Coroner, on the body of a young girl, named Eileen Brady (15), who was drowned while bathing at what is known as "Curley's Hole," Bull Wall, Dollymount, on Monday last. From the evidence of Mrs. Catherine Brady, 45 Blessington street, mother of deceased, it appeared that her daughter on the afternoon in question went to bathe on the east side of the wall. Witness, who was standing on the beach, saw her daughter apparently get out of her depth and disappear under the water. A few minutes afterwards a man arrived, and after some time took deceased, who could not swim, out of the water. The medical evidence was that death was due to asphyxia following immersion.

Mr. Alfred English, coastguard officer at Dollymount, stated that he searched about "Curley's Hole" for nearly thirty minutes before he found the body on the sand, 500 yards away from the hole. This particular spot was under the charge of the Dublin Port and Docks Board, to whom he was sending a special report, suggesting that a notice board with the word "Dangerous" in large red letters be erected. The original Curley's Hole was about 400 yards away from this and a notice board was exposed there. A strong swimmer could scarcely stand against the rush of water at the place where the deceased was drowned.

Tributes were paid to the last-named witness for his prompt action, and to others who went to the assistance of the girl, and the jury returned a verdict in accordance with the medical evidence.

IRISH WILLS.

Mr. William McDonnell, of Portaferry, Co. Down, merchant, who died on 12th April, 1915, left personal estate in the United Kingdom valued at £1,660 16/-. Probate of his will, dated 16th March, 1899, has been granted to Mr. James Gracey, of Portaferry. The testator left to his wife an annuity of £25, in addition to provision already made for her, and he left to her also the Old Bank House and furniture at Portaferry, and the residue of the property to his nephew, James Gracey.

The Rev. John Henry (otherwise John Hawghton) Steele, of St. Patrick's College, Cavan, who died on the 17th March last, left personal property in the United Kingdom valued at £252 1/10. Probate of his will, dated 9th April, 1919, has been granted to the Rev. Daniel Fitzpatrick. The testator left his signed and framed photographs of the late Pope Pius X. and of Cardinal Merry del Val to the Rev. Michael Young, and the remainder of his property to the Rev. Daniel Fitzpatrick.

DUBLIN AND DISTRICT.

A WEEK'S SHIPPING RECORD.—Twenty-one steamers, the property of the British and Irish Steam Packet Company, left the Liffey this week. These sailings are being conducted between Dublin and Liverpool, Birkenhead, Manchester, London, Plymouth, and Southampton.

CHANGEABLE WEATHER.—There was a sharp change in weather conditions in Dublin yesterday, when the temperature fell, and cold winds, with an occasional rain squall from the north to north-west, were the prevailing features. Rain "spouts" were witnessed early in the day descending on the South Dublin mountains.

THREATENED STRIKE OF GRAND CANAL COMPANY EMPLOYES.—The threatened strike of the employes of the Grand Canal Company has been temporarily averted by the action of the Ministry of Labour, which has called a conference of the representatives of the company and the Irish Workers' and General Transport Union.

BLACKROCK TOWNSHIP WORKERS' STRIKE.—At the meeting of the Blackrock Urban Council last night, Mr. Murphy asked that the employes who were on strike should be settled with. The township was in a shocking condition. The Chairman said that the matter would be considered at a special meeting to-morrow. The workers were ready enough to demand increased wages, but not to give efficient services in return.

DANCE AT THE HOTEL CARLISLE, KINGSTOWN.—Over seventy guests were present at an enjoyable dance which was given in the new lounge at the Hotel Carlisle, Kingstown, on Friday evening last. Dancing was maintained with spirit to the strains of a string band until 4 a.m. Supper and refreshments were served in an adjoining room. During the intervals vocal items were pleasingly rendered by Miss Eyre Powell. The night concluded with cheers for the proprietress and the playing of "Auld Lang Syne."

KINGSTOWN TECHNICAL SCHOOL.—The Kingstown Urban Council have adopted the recommendation of the Technical Instruction Committee to increase the salaries of full-time officers by £10 a year. This addition increases the salaries of Miss E. M. Crook (assistant domestic economy teacher) to £100, Miss K. C. Waren (head mistress) to £150, Mr. John Bennett (horticultural instructor) to £101 5s., and Dr. B. MacDonald (principal) to £458. All salaries carry a bonus, which is repaid by the Department.

BICYCLE STEALING.—An ex-soldier named John O'Leary, of no fixed residence, was charged before Mr. Swifte, K.C., in the Dublin Police Court yesterday, with stealing a bicycle value £14, the property of Mr. McLean, Ivy Lodge, Drumcondra, from outside Woolworth's in Grafton street, on 12th June. Prisoner, who pleaded guilty, was sentenced to three months' hard labour. The prisoner was arrested from a description by Detective Officers Mulvihill and Murphy, who were highly commended by the magistrate. These two detectives have brought ten bicycle thieves to justice in the last couple of months.

WEEK-END SCENES IN BLACKROCK.—Mr. W. McCracken presided at the meeting of the Blackrock Urban Council last night, when Mr. McDermott said that his attention had been directed by several ratepayers to the rowdyism which had occurred recently during the week-end by wounded soldiers. He did not want to cause any ill-feeling over the matter, but he did not think that the local publicans should supply these men with drink. Some of these men were minus their arms, and were unable to carry the drink home with them. Mr. Massey said that the publicans who supplied wounded soldiers with drink incurred the risk of being prosecuted for a very serious offence. The Council expressed the hope that steps would be taken to end the exhibition of rowdyism during week-ends.

MILK PROSECUTIONS.—In the Dublin Police Court yesterday, before Mr. Swifte, K.C., Mary Nolan, 6 Mount Brown, was fined £2 for selling new milk from which 10 per cent. of its fats had been abstracted. Defendant said that she sold the milk as it came from the cows, which she kept herself. Mary Ward, 14A Upper Stephen street, was also fined £2 for a similar offence. Defendant said that she never tampered with the milk, but sold it as she bought it. The following were also fined for selling new milk from which certain percentages of fats had been abstracted:—Mrs. M. Curran, 26 Lower Stephen street (for whom Mr. Brady appeared), £1; Mary O'Reilly, 111 Emmet road (for whom Mr. Gerald Byrne appeared), £2. Alice Byrne, 13 Lower Clanbrassil street, dairy keeper, was fined 10/- and 10/- costs for having milk exposed in her shop not properly covered, and having a cowshed not properly cleansed, on July 20th. Ellen Cummins, 137 Townsend street, was also fined 10/- and 10/- costs for having a milk vessel in her shop not properly closed.

KILLINEY HOUSING SCHEME.—Mr. T. F. Strahan, Local Government Board Inspector, held an inquiry yesterday in the Town Hall, Killiney, into an application of the Killiney Urban Council for sanction of a loan of £8,390 for the erection of eight new working-class dwellings, each to contain three rooms, with scullery, larder, fuel store, and detached sanitary conveniences, at a cost of £1,050. Mr. Charles W. Russell, solicitor, represented the Council. Mr. Cunningham, Town Clerk, said that letting these houses at 8/- a week, even with the subsidy of 27/6, would mean a loss of £25 9/-. The Inspector said that these schemes as a rule worked out at 8 per cent. on the capital expenditure. It was not defined as to whether they would get 27/6. He supposed the cost of the hot and cold bath would be £120. He saw there was an invention now where 40 gallons of hot water could be produced by 1½d. of gas. The plant cost £30. Mr. Cunningham remarked that nine feet of gas now cost a penny. Mr. Mitchel, Township Engineer, gave evidence, and Mr. A. H. Ormsby Hamilton, D.L., Chairman of the Council, and Mr. R. T. Meagher, U.D.C., approved of the scheme. The inquiry closed.

DUBLIN GUARDIANS AND INCOME TAX.—At the weekly meeting of the Dublin Guardians yesterday, Mr. M. Foley, Chairman, presiding, the Clerk intimated that the Munster and Leinster Bank had inquired what steps were being taken to reduce the debit balance, and to carry out the arrangement which the old Board had made. He replied that he had written to the contributory bodies. The Corporation had promised to lodge £20,000, but had not done so. The County Council had lodged £12,000, leaving due £6,579, while the amount due by the Corporation was £55,704. If the contributory bodies paid up there would be enough money to carry on. The old Board had cut down the estimates by £20,000, and the present Board were the sufferers. A demand was made for the payment of income tax in respect of dispensary doctors' residences at Howth and Castleknock, and Pelletstown auxiliary. The amount concerned was £37 odd. The Chairman asked what order should be made. Mr. O'Toole said that an order had already been made not to give any information to the income tax authorities. The Clerk stated it was a very different thing when it came to paying an account. The Guardians agreed to the Chairman marking the item "clerk not to pay." Miss Evans said that that would involve them in law costs. The Chairman—We will be getting into jail. (Laughter.)

PROVINCIAL PARAGRAPHS.

TOWN CLERK'S RESIGNATION.—Mr. M. A. W. McClatchey, Town Clerk of Portadown, has resigned.

PIGEON FOUND.—Mr. H. Mayston, of Goodbrook, Delgany, Co. Wicklow, writes:—A homer pigeon has been picked up near here, with two rings marked X 529 and 943 20. The owner can have the bird by applying to me.

ALLEGED THEFT OF A REVOLVER.—At a special court in Dundalk four men named Rice, Kieran, Deery, and Gartland were remanded on a charge of having robbed Thomas McCourt, publican, of Lurgankeel, of a revolver, and also with having assaulted him.

POTEEN-MAKING IN INISHOWEN.—The Irish Volunteers made a raid on a party of stillers on Saturday night a few miles from Carndonagh. After destroying a quantity of "wash," the Volunteers brought the "still head" and the "wash" to Carndonagh, where it was exhibited on Sunday.

LOUTH MURDER CHARGE.—Michael Shields, a sailor, of Annagassan, Co. Louth, was returned for trial at Dundalk yesterday on a charge of having murdered Margaret Smith, an old age pensioner, whose dead body was found in an empty house, the property of the accused's mother, at Dungooley. The prisoner pleaded not guilty.

THE LATE CAPTAIN O'BRIEN.—The Board of Directors of Messrs. O'Gorman Bros., Ltd., Clonmel, at a special meeting, passed a vote of condolence with Sir Timothy O'Brien on the death of his brother, Captain G. L. O'Brien. Captain O'Brien was one of the directors of the company, and, as a mark of respect, the different establishments of the firm were closed yesterday, when the funeral took place.

EX-SOLDIER CHARGED WITH STEALING £118.—W. J. Gallacher, a Scottish ex-soldier, was arrested yesterday morning by the Derry Police on leaving jail, after completing a term of imprisonment, for masquerading in the uniform of a Lieutenant Commander of the Royal Navy. He was subsequently remanded at a special court, charged with having, on the night of the 7th July, or morning of the 8th July, stolen £118 7/-, the property of the Commercial Bank of Scotland, Glasgow.

PETROL STOLEN AT DUNGANNON.—The officials at Dungannon Railway Station Goods Department discovered yesterday morning that ten large cases, containing 40 tins of petrol, consigned to the Shell Marketing Company Depôt at Cookstown, had been removed from a wagon during the night. Five of the empty cases were found at the end of Scotch street, a considerable distance from the station. The other five had been thrown on the platform. No clue to the raiders has been found up to the present.

DUBLIN SEA SCOUTS AT THE INTERNATIONAL JAMBOREE.

A contingent numbering 32 Sea Scouts, including officers, left Dublin on Tuesday, the 27th July, for Olympia, to take part in the great International Jamboree. They stayed in London for a week, and during this time they gave a display of life-saving apparatus drill between a shipwrecked vessel and the shore, and on some occasions they were called upon to give the display twice daily. During their stay in London they also rowed races against representative Sea Scout teams from all over England, and beat every team they were entered against. This reflects the greatest credit upon the Port of Dublin Sea Scouts' Association, and particularly upon the Scoutmasters of the various troops, who have taken such pains and trouble to train their boys. During the time the boys were in London they stayed on board the Scout training ship Northampton, moored in the River Thames.

The Bishop of Down dedicated in St. John's Church, Newcastle, County Down, a tablet recording the names of those belonging to the church who were killed in the war, a carved oak panelling to their memory, an oak choir stand in memory of Archdeacon Watson, a lectern in memory of Colonel Slacke, R.E., and an oak reredos. Rev. Jackson Lawlor, Litt.D., Precentor of St. Patrick's, Dublin, assisted Rev. O. Woodward, M.A., Rector, at the service.

CLERKSHIPS FOR WAR WORKERS.

Examinations announced for Oct., Nov., and Dec. Male and Female of one year's service (clerical or with the Forces). No maximum age limit. Students of SKERRY'S COLLEGE, 76 Stephen's Green, Dublin, obtained 105 Successes at Civil Service (Reconstruction Scheme) Exams. since May, 1919. Special Day, Evening, and Correspondence Classes now starting.—(Advt.)

LAW REPORTS.

CONTEMPT OF COURT.—In the Chancery Division, Dublin, yesterday, before Mr. Justice Ross, sitting to hear urgent motions, in the case of Patrick Hanley v. Thomas Hanley, Mr. Tobias (instructed by Mr. P. J. Gaynor) applied for an order for the attachment and committal of the defendant for contempt of Court for disobedience of an order of the Court made on the 27th February last, that he should give up possession of a house and lands at Ashbrook and Belmont, in the County of Roscommon. In an affidavit of the plaintiff it was stated that the defendant had taken possession of the land, and of an outhouse, where he and his wife and six children lived. The defendant kept cattle on the land, and was cutting down trees. When the plaintiff asked him to leave the place and give up possession the defendant replied that the plaintiff did not own anything there, and, further, the defendant threatened to throw him into a drain. The plaintiff also said that his house had been fired into at night, and that the defendant's wife had been committed for trial for having stabbed the plaintiff with a heavy fork. A previous application of this kind was adjourned in consequence of the illness of the defendant's wife, but she died in July last, and there was now no reason why the defendant should not give up possession of the premises. Mr. Justice Ross made an order for the committal of the defendant for a period of three months, but it should not issue if the defendant gave up possession within a fortnight of the service of the order upon him.

ORDER AGAINST AN AUCTIONEER.—In the King's Bench Division, Mr. G. Farrell (instructed by Mr. D. P. Blaney) applied on behalf of the plaintiff, Thomas Stephenson, a farmer in the Co. Wicklow, for an order for the attachment and committal of Edward J. Lawlor, auctioneer, Dunlavin, for contempt of Court by reason of his neglect or refusal to obey an order made by Mr. Justice Powell on the 23rd of April last, directing him to furnish an account of monies received by him as auctioneer in the sale of live stock, farm implements, and other chattels, the property of plaintiff, between February and June, 1919. Counsel said that there was about £400 due to the plaintiff from the defendant, and that the defendant had, up to that day, neglected to furnish the plaintiff with an account of the monies received by him. Mr. M. A. Corrigan, solicitor for the defendant, said that his client, who was not in attendance, wanted an adjournment of the application. Mr. Farrell said that the defendant had got an adjournment last week upon a misleading telegram. Mr. Justice Ross now made an order that unless the defendant furnished an account within twenty-one days he must be committed to Mountjoy Prison for six months.

KILDARE DIVORCE SUIT.—Mr. M'Cutcheon (instructed by Mr. Lanphier) applied on behalf of Mrs. Lizzie A. Brophy for an order for payment of alimony pendente lite against her husband, Stephen Brophy, a farmer, residing at Morganstown, Co. Kildare. Counsel said that his client was bringing a petition for divorce a mensa et thoro against her husband on the grounds of misconduct and cruelty. The respondent was a widower, with four children, when he married the petitioner on the 16th February last. She alleged that she had to leave his house in consequence of his misconduct, and she asked for £2 a week pending the hearing of the petition. The respondent had a farm of 93 acres, well stocked, and the petitioner in her affidavit stated that he made about £500 a year profit. The respondent, on the other hand, stated that he did not make over £150 profit, and that he could not afford to pay more than 15/- a week. Mr. Kinahan (instructed by Messrs. Brown and M'Cann) appeared for the respondent, and suggested that the alimony should be on a more moderate scale than that which was asked for by the petitioner. Mr. Justice Ross fixed the alimony at 35/- a week, and gave the petitioner the costs of the application.

CO. MONAGHAN DIVORCE.—Mr. Sainsbury (instructed by Mr. A. A. Wells) applied on behalf of the petitioner in the case of Rose Brennan against her husband, Peter Brennan, for an order for the payment of alimony pendente lite. The petitioner was seeking a divorce from her husband. The parties were married at Corduff Roman Catholic Church, and there were no children of the marriage. The petitioner said that her husband was owner of a farm worth £2,000, at Drumbeagh, Co. Monaghan. There was no appearance for the respondent. Mr. Justice Ross made an order for the payment by the respondent of 25/- a week.

ACTION AGAINST DISCOUNT COMPANY.—In the case of Phillips v. the Provident Union Discount Co., Ltd., Mr. Sainsbury (instructed by Mr. T. J. Furlong) applied on behalf of the defendant company for an order remitting the action for trial before the Recorder of Dublin on the usual grounds, including alleged want of visible means on the part of the plaintiff, Miss Gertrude Phillips, of 25 Upper Gardiner street, Dublin. The action was brought to recover damages for personal injuries alleged to have been sustained by the plaintiff owing to the negligence of the defendants in keeping a dangerous grating on the footpath opposite the premises 18 St. Stephen's Green. Damages were also claimed for alleged nuisance owing to the condition of the grating. It appeared the accident out of which the proceedings arose took place on 17th February last. In an affidavit the plaintiff stated that owing to the injuries she had been unable to continue her work of translating French into English. Dr. Jackson, who attended the plaintiff, stated, in an affidavit, that she had suffered from severe nervous shock, and had lost considerable blood owing to the injuries to her leg, and the effects of the accident were likely to be of a permanent nature. Surgeon Macauley, who had examined the lady on behalf of the defendants, stated that he could find no signs of any physical injury whatever, and that in his opinion the effects of the accident were not likely to be permanent. Mr. Bartley (instructed by Messrs. Wm. Smyth and Son) opposed the application on behalf of the plaintiff, pointing out that an important legal question was involved, the defendants having pleaded that they were not responsible, as they were only the head landlords of the premises. Mr. Justice Ross made the order sought, directing that it should not take effect if the parties agreed to have the action tried before a judge without a jury.

THE AMERICAN MARKETS.

STOCKS CLOSED STEADY.

(REUTER'S TELEGRAMS.)

NEW YORK, WEDNESDAY.

Stocks opened irregular. Bearish foreign news and new stringent domestic conditions influenced selling. Then the market rallied on buying of European Oils, Shippings, and Steels, but again weakened under the higher money rates and selling of Equipments on reports that orders from the Railroads were light. Covering, however, took place in the late dealings, and the closing was steady.

Severe Nerve and Stomach Trouble

Neuritis, Neuralgia and Indigestion Cured by Dr. Cassell's Tablets

Mrs. Williams, Alwyn Cottage, Whitby, near Chester, says:—"After an attack of pleurisy about three years ago, I was left very weak, and I cannot describe how nervous and restless I felt. Sometimes I could not keep still for nerves, and, worse than all, I could not sleep at nights. This, of course, made me weaker than ever. I had little desire for food, and when I did eat pain was sure to follow in my back and over the kidneys. I suffered also with flatulence and a nasty sick feeling, and the headaches I endured were awful. They were like neuralgia. In my left arm, too, there was a dull gnawing pain, which became sharp if I raised my arm suddenly, and was followed by a burning sensation. I believe it was neuritis. The indigestion had become so bad by this time that I was told my stomach was ulcerated.

"I had medical advice, and kept trying one thing and another, but without any benefit, till at last I got Dr. Cassell's Tablets. Then relief came. I began to sleep at night, and the pain and indigestion lessened. I grew stronger daily, till in quite a short time I felt as well as before my illness."

FINANCIAL NEWS.

DUBLIN STOCK EXCHANGE.

DEARER MONEY FEARS. "CASHEL" AND DUBLIN DISTILLERS BUOYANT. DUNLOPS FLAT.

There were a few sensitive favourable spots on the Stock Exchange yesterday, but otherwise markets were quiet and dull enough on fears of dearer money. The leading feature was the bid of 46 for Great Southern and Western Railway Ord. Stock after the recent slump to 41. Another outstanding point of interest was the further accession of strength for Dublin Distillers' issues on a revival of vague rumours. The Calico Printers Association dividend statement was a splendid one, and the fact of the Ord. getting 10 p.c. for the past year against 5 p.c. with £300,000 to reserve, and an increase of £283,000 in the balance forward, shows how well earned was the larger payment. There was a distinctly weak market for Dunlop Rubber Ord. shares. Oil shares remain in good demand. Marconi shares were offered towards the close for London account.

The Funds were quiet. Consols fell ⅛ to 46⅛, and Local Loans ½ to 53. War Loan 5 p.c. repeated 85⅛, and Guaranteed 2¾ p.c. Land Stock 54.

In Banks Munster and Leinsters fell ⅛ to 6½, while Provincials repeated 19½, and in Marconis the Ord. eased 8d. to 59s. 6d., 59s.

There was more support in the Brewery and Distillery market. Dublin Distillers' Ord. rose at a bound 13s. 6d. to 60s., and the Pref. ½ to 5¼. Guinness opened ½ better, but closed unchanged at 34⅝. Castlebellingham and Drogheda Ord. also repeated 5½, and John Jameson and Son Debs. were pressed for sale.

In Home Rails the only indication of change was the ineffectual bid of 46 for Great Southern and Western Ord. stock, a rise of 5 points on previous price, but the Guaranteed Stock shows no rally at 48, the previous day's much lower level.

Dunlop issues were dull. Dunlop Rubber Ord. fell ⅛ more to 7½, and immediately after hours further gave way to about 7¼. Parent Tyre Pref. fell 1½d. to 13s. 1½d.

As regards Textiles, Calicos did not quote, but appeared firm from the other side. Bleachers eased 9d. to about 37s. nominally. Coats fell 9d. to 51s. 6d., but Cottons rose 3d. to 40s.

In Miscellaneous, etc.; Securities Irish Times 1st Pref. rose 9d. to 58s. 9d. Brooks, Thomas' "Letters" realised 2s. 6d. and 3s. 9d. Imperial Tobacco repeated 48s. 3d., but Mexican Eagle rose ⅛ to 10½, while Shells fell ⅛ to 6⅝.

AFTER OFFICIAL HOURS.

The following prices were called at the later market:—Dunlop Rubber Ord., 7¼; Dublin Distillers Ord., 60s.-65s., and the Pref. 5¼-½, while the Debs. were bid for up to about 70, but no seller declared.

HOLIDAY STOCKS.

BRIGHTER POLITICAL NEWS OFFSETS MEAGRE BUSINESS.

(FROM THE FINANCIAL NEWS OF TO-DAY.)

With the holiday season now at its height an expansion of business was not to be expected, but this much may be said, that Stock Markets yesterday fully maintained the confident tone which was noticeable on the two previous days. There was not a great deal of business, of course, but the improved sentiment counted for much in the circumstances. At the outset the tendency of markets was quite good, and although prices in some sections subsequently went back a little from the best on fears of Continental selling, the majority of the day's changes were in favour of holders. In the gilt-edged market War Stocks, save Victory Bonds and Funding Loan, were generally better.

LONDON STOCKS LETHARGIC.

SELLING FROM IRELAND.

With the holiday season in full swing the Stock Exchange does not throw off his lethargy. Conditions in Throgmorton street were steady, but extremely dull, and Oil shares failed to again provide a foil for the prevailing greyness owing to a bout of professional profit-taking, which carried back values moderately. Elsewhere business was apparently confined to adjustments, and even these were on a trifling scale. The latest political and labour news failed to ruffle sentiment, and gilt-edged securities showed some increase of firmness, quotations tending forward quietly under the lead of War Fives, which registered a further advance of ⅛ to 85½. Insiders were inclined to put Colonial Loans forward here and there on a little inquiry. The Pall Mall Gazette says that selling from Ireland of certain shares usually favoured there was a feature of the Stock Exchange in the afternoon.

FOREIGN MARKETS FEATURELESS.—The Foreign market presented no feature of outstanding interest. Business on both local and Continental account was at an irreducible minimum, and the latest Polish news failed to affect values either way. French Fives held at 48, reflecting the steadiness of the franc. The Fours remained at 38. Belgian Threes were off colour at 52, and German Threes, at 7½, were dull, the exchange value of the mark deteriorating afresh. Mexican Loans were a firm spot, and marked occasional gains of a point. The External Loan closed at 48½. Peruvians were in fair request, the Pref. being up to 26, and the Debs. to 81.

Changes—Rises—Japan 4½ p.c., 1 to 98 x.d.; do. 4 p.c., 1 to 73. Fall—German Threes, ⅛ to 7½.

HOME RAILS SLUGGISH.—In the Home Railway market conditions were sluggish, and, despite a steady undertone, values fluctuated narrowly on adjustments. Undergrounds failed to respond to the advance in fares.

Changes—Rises—Lancs. and Yorks., ½ to 55½; London and North-Western, ½ to 76½ x.d. Fall—North-Eastern Consol., ¼ to 79.

CANADIAN AND FOREIGN RAILS.—Canadian Pacifics barely held at 160, despite the increased exchange value of the dollar. Grand Trunk Stocks see-sawed aimlessly, but finished without net change. There was some bidding for Mexican Railway Prefs., which, however, closed unchanged after being a point better. Argentine Rails came into request during the afternoon, and finished with several gains of ½. The weekly traffics, on the whole, were encouraging. Leopoldines were still favoured, and United of Havana was a firm spot at 81½.

INDUSTRIAL SHARES DULL.

A FEW MINOR FEATURES.

(FROM THE FINANCIAL NEWS OF TO-DAY.)

One or two minor movements attracted a little attention in the Miscellaneous and Industrial market yesterday, but, on the whole, the day was a dull one, with business extremely slack. Transactions in the Iron and Steel section were few and far between, but interest was not entirely lacking, and prices for the most part kept firm. As was to have been expected, Guest Keens came into favour on the annual report. The continuance of a total tax free distribution of 15 per cent. on the greatly multiplied Ordinary capital was regarded as an achievement under existing conditions. From an overnight closing price of 45s., the shares were accordingly advanced 6d. to 45s. 6d., after changing hands at 46s. 3d. Vickers and Armstrong were both a steady market at 24s. 3d. and 20s. 6d., respectively, and inclined to go to better. An approximation to activity in Bengal Iron, which has provided some market interest during the past day or so, was followed yesterday by narrow fluctuations, and a slightly easier finish. As regards the rumours of re-registering the company in India with a view to counteracting taxation penalties, the market has not been inclined to credit the suggestion, and nothing is heard about the matter at the London office of the company. The shares yesterday showed initial improvement to 2⅛, but reacted later under the influence of profit-taking after the rise of the previous day, finally closing at 2⅛. Swan Hunters were heavy at 2¼, or ⅛ lower. B.S.A. retained their advance at 21s. 6d. Coal stocks continued quiet with a steady tone. Powell Duffryn, in fact, improving to 2⅛, or ⅛ better, and Wm. Cory keeping the price at 2½. The Textile collection was dull, under the influence of a decline in Calicos following the dividend announcement. Although the 10 per cent. declared compares with only 5 per cent. on the previous occasion, the yield to the investor on the basis of the current quotation is little more than 7 per cent., which is little enough on an Ordinary industrial share. At the same time, it is realised that the trading results are actually very satisfactory, and the more detailed information is awaited with interest. The shares were marked down yesterday to 1⅛, or ⅛ lower. Courtaulds managed to keep the price at 6⅛, and Spinners were no worse at 2⅛. Amalgamated Cottons at 1⅛ were unchanged, although inclined to ease off at one time. Business in the section was very slack. There being nothing much to go for now, professional support appears to be leaving Dunlops, which yesterday sagged rather heavily to 7¼, or ¼ lower. It is also thought that the few profit-takers are making a belated appearance after the recent jump. A little stock on offer soon depresses the market in these days. British Oil and Cake were unchanged at 40s., and Eastmans kept the price at 23s. 9d. B.A.T. ruled steady at 3⅛, but Imperial Tobacco finished with the loss of the turn at 48s.

HOLIDAY STOCKS.

BRIGHTER POLITICAL NEWS OFFSETS MEAGRE BUSINESS.

(FROM THE FINANCIAL NEWS OF TO-DAY.)

With the holiday season now at its height an expansion of business was not to be expected, but this much may be said, that Stock Markets yesterday fully maintained the confident tone which was noticeable on the two previous days. There was not a great deal of business, of course, but the improved sentiment counted for much in the circumstances. At the outset the tendency of markets was quite good, and although prices in some sections subsequently went back a little from the best on fears of Continental selling, the majority of the day's changes were in favour of holders. In the gilt-edged market War Stocks, save Victory Bonds and Funding Loan, were generally better.

LONDON STOCKS LETHARGIC.

SELLING FROM IRELAND.

With the holiday season in full swing the Stock Exchange does not throw off his lethargy. Conditions in Throgmorton street were steady, but extremely dull, and Oil shares failed to again provide a foil for the prevailing greyness owing to a bout of professional profit-taking, which carried back values moderately. Elsewhere business was apparently confined to adjustments, and even these were on a trifling scale. The latest political and labour news failed to ruffle sentiment, and gilt-edged securities showed some increase of firmness, quotations tending forward quietly under the lead of War Fives, which registered a further advance of 1/16 to 85¼. Insiders were inclined to put Colonial Loans forward here and there on a little inquiry. The Pall Mall Gazette says that selling from Ireland of certain shares usually favoured there was a feature of the Stock Exchange in the afternoon.

FOREIGN MARKETS FEATURELESS.—The Foreign market presented no feature of outstanding interest. Business on both local and Continental account was at an irreducible minimum, and the latest Polish news failed to affect values either way. French Fives held at 48, reflecting the steadiness of the franc. The Fours remained at 38. Belgian Threes were off colour at 52, and German Threes, at 7½, were dull, the exchange value of the mark deteriorating afresh. Mexican Loans were a firm spot, and marked occasional gains of a point. The External Loan closed at 48½. Peruvians were in fair request, the Pref. being up to 26, and the Debs. to 81.

Changes—Rises—Japan 4½ p.c., 1 to 98 x.d.; do. 4 p.c., 1 to 73. Fall—German Threes, 1/16 to 7½.

HOME RAILS SLUGGISH.—In the Home Railway market conditions were sluggish, and, despite a steady undertone, values fluctuated narrowly on adjustments. Undergrounds failed to respond to the advance in fares.

Changes—Rises—Lancs. and Yorks., ½ to 55½; London and North-Western, ½ to 76½ x.d. Fall—North-Eastern Consol., ½ to 79.

CANADIAN AND FOREIGN RAILS.—Canadian Pacifics barely held at 160, despite the increased exchange value of the dollar. Grand Trunk Stocks see-sawed aimlessly, but finished without net change. There was some bidding for Mexican Railway Prefs., which, however, closed unchanged after being a point better. Argentine Rails came into request during the afternoon, and finished with several gains of ½. The weekly traffics, on the whole, were encouraging. Leopoldines were still favoured, and United of Havana was a firm spot at 81½.

INDUSTRIAL SHARES DULL.

A FEW MINOR FEATURES.

(FROM THE FINANCIAL NEWS OF TO-DAY.)

One or two minor movements attracted a little attention in the Miscellaneous and Industrial market yesterday, but, on the whole, the day was a dull one, with business extremely slack. Transactions in the Iron and Steel section were few and far between, but interest was not entirely lacking, and prices for the most part kept firm. As was to have been expected, Guest Keens came into favour on the annual report. The continuance of a total tax free distribution of 15 per cent. on the greatly multiplied Ordinary capital was regarded as an achievement under existing conditions. From an overnight closing price of 45s., the shares were accordingly advanced 6d. to 45s. 6d., after changing hands at 46s. 3d. Vickers and Armstrong were both a steady market at 24s. 3d. and 26s. 6d., respectively, and inclined to go to better. An approximation to activity in Bengal Iron, which has provided some market interest during the past day or so, was followed yesterday by narrow fluctuations, and a slightly easier finish. As regards the rumours of re-registering the company in India with a view to counteracting taxation penalties, the market has not been inclined to credit the suggestion, and nothing is heard about the matter at the London office of the company. The shares yesterday showed initial improvement to 2 11/16, but reacted later under the influence of profit-taking after the rise of the previous day, finally closing at 2⅝. Swan Hunters were heavy at 2¼, or ⅛ lower. B.S.A. retained their advance at 21s. 6d. Coal stocks continued quiet with a steady tone, Powell Duffryn, in fact, improving to 2 1/16, or 1/16 better, and Wm. Cory keeping the price at 2¾. The Textile collection was dull, under the influence of a decline in Calicos following the dividend announcement. Although the 10 per cent. declared compares with only 5 per cent. on the previous occasion, the yield to the investor on the basis of the current quotation is little more than 7 per cent., which is little enough on an Ordinary industrial share. At the same time, it is realised that the trading results are actually very satisfactory, and the more detailed information is awaited with interest. The shares were marked down yesterday to 1 11/16, or 1/16 lower. Courtaulds managed to keep the price at 6 11/16, and Spinners were no worse at 2⅛. Amalgamated Cottons at 1 1/16 were unchanged, although inclined to ease off at one time. Business in the section was very slack. There being nothing much to go for now, professional support appears to be leaving Dunlops, which yesterday sagged rather heavily to 7⅛, or ⅛ lower. It is also thought that the few profit-takers are making a belated appearance after the recent jump. A little stock on offer soon depresses the market in these days. British Oil and Cake were unchanged at 40s., and Eastmans kept the price at 23s. 9d. B.A.T. ruled steady at 3 1/16, but Imperial Tobacco finished with the loss of the turn at 48s. Ronéo Ord. eased 1/16 to 2⅛. Among Motors, Vauxhalls came in for a little inquiry, brightening to 15s. 9d. Alby United Carbide eased to 6s. 6d. Pref. issues were again wanted in certain instances. Union Cold Storage 6 per cent. Pref. hardened to ⅛, and Van Den Bergh "B" Pref. were better at 1⅛. City of London 5 per cent. Pref. responded to some firm bidding, with a rise of 3 to 66½. A few buyers were in evidence in the supply groups. Lyons, despite the continuance of the strike, improved to 4⅛, or ⅛ better. Aerated Breads also advanced 1/16 to 1⅛. Maypoles were a little harder for choice at 12s. 1½d. Exceptionally, Liptons Pref. were not so good at 13s. 6d. Among Stores, Whiteleys eased to 29s. 6d., and A. and N. Co-operative lost 1/16 at 1 11/16. Pyrotan Leather were offered down to 8s., or 1s. lower. Smithfield Meat came back a little at 15s. 6d. Among Insurance securities, Commercial Union lost ⅛ at 25¼. The Shipping section was again consigned to the background. Gas stock showed no more changes, but among Canadian American, Brazilian Traction receded further to 47. Barclays "B" were harder among Banks at 41s.; Lloyds, on the other hand, shed 3d. at 45s. 6d. Duffs put on 6d. at 14s. 6d. in the Land section, where prices were otherwise motionless. Nitrates were quietly firm under the influence of a rise of ¼ in Alianza to 18¼ ex dividend.

FALLING MINES.

NO BUSINESS DOING.

(FROM THE FINANCIAL NEWS OF TO-DAY.)

Mining markets yesterday could boast of but little professional business, while public orders were few and far between, and as Paris was still inclined to hold aloof or sell where possible, movements on the day were again mostly downward. The price of gold remained firm at £5 14s. per oz., and although it is generally recognised that the estimated realisation figures of the output are likely to be considerably exceeded, and that the industry is making satisfactory progress despite adverse conditions, investors and speculators are shy or indifferent. Buyers are plentifully lacking, but as real holders are disinclined to sell the market see-saws within narrow bounds. Rand Mines were rather depressed at one time, but the lower price attracted a little Paris demand, and the close was above the worst. Apart from these particular shares the French capital was inclined to offer Kaffirs and Central Mining, Crown Mines, City Deep, and other active counters weakened—in fact, only three small improvements relieved the monotony. The Rhodesian department maintained a very steady appearance despite the slackness of trade, and there were again buyers of Globe, Rezende, Rhodesia Broken Hill, and one or two others. Paris influence was felt in the Diamond section, and De Beers Def. were freely offered without finding buyers, except at substantial reductions. The Tin share market lost the little interest that had been aroused on the preceding day, and dealings were almost at a standstill.

OIL SHARES FLUCTUATE.

FIRM OPENING FOLLOWED BY A SET-BACK, BUT RENEWED STRENGTH IS SHOWN IN THE LATE DEALINGS.

(FROM THE FINANCIAL TIMES OF TO-DAY.)

Despite lessened activity yesterday, the volume of business transacted in Oil shares again compared very favourably with that of other sections of the "House," and there is no doubt that the optimistic views entertained regarding the outlook for the industry as a whole are sufficient to outweigh the influences by which other departments are swayed. All-round firmness was displayed at the opening, but a good deal of selling was encountered soon after the start, causing a set-back in prices. Later, however, a rally occurred, and at the close, although lower quotations predominated, the tendency was quite hard again. Paris was a small buyer of Mexican Eagles, but was doing hardly anything in its other favourites. In regard to Mexican Eagles there was some heavy selling, which caused the price to recede rather sharply, but the shares on offer were absorbed without difficulty, and a recovery took place, the market in the shares looking decidedly strong at the close, and the quotation being only a trifle below Tuesday's levels. The strength of these shares is due largely to the encouraging reports received with reference to the Mexican petroleum industry generally, and also to anticipations of favourable results from the active drilling programme now being conducted by the Mexican Eagle Company. Royal Dutch had a decidedly heavy appearance at one time, but made good headway later in the day, finishing well above the lowest point touched, and Shells, after early depression, also rallied well. Burmahs, in common with other leading counters, started off well, but came back in the later dealings. A slightly easier tendency developed in Trinidad issues, small declines being registered in Centrals, Leaseholds, and United British. Lobitos were in moderate request, and strengthened, but Kern Rivers further declined, and Venezuelan Oil Concessions were also easier. Firmness was maintained by Roumanian Concessions, and Premier Oil again met with support, and further improved. Although in the official dealings on Tuesday evening Phoenix Oil and Transport were mentioned on the basis of 1/16 discount for the shares (7s. 6d. paid), actual dealings really only commenced yesterday, the starting price being 1/16-⅛ discount. Transactions in the shares were on a fair scale, and a good deal of support was received, which brought about an improvement to ⅛ discount, at which they closed. The recovery gave rise to the suggestion that the underwriters, having been left with so large a proportion of the issue, were possibly endeavouring to obtain the remainder. Closing prices:—

RUBBER SHARES QUIET.

(FROM OUR FINANCIAL CORRESPONDENT.)

There were very few features in the Rubber market yesterday, and the tone remains quiet. Business has been on a small scale, and rubber itself was a trifle easier at a shade under 2s. per lb. Anglo-Dutch eased a few pence at 48s. 6d. Batu Caves were no better than 1⅛, while Kuala Kalumpong lost 1/16 to 1½. Batavia Trust strengthened to 8s. 6d. on the company's recent announcement. Mooply Valley offered around 33s., and Port Dickson at 3s. Selangor gained the turn at 9s., and Biting rose sharply to 2s. 4½d. on rumours of oil being discovered on the property. There were sellers of Bandjarsarie around 30s., and Jeram changed hands at 55s. 9d. Sumatra Props. rose 1/16 to 28s. 3d. Kinta Kellas and Marawan both gained the turn at 4s. 9d. and 4s. respectively, and Kepitigallas were active, rising to 14s. 6d. The shares actually changed hands as high as 15s. 3d.

FINANCIAL PARAGRAPHS.

The following notice has been issued to the shareholders of Eastmans by the Secretary:—"Referring to the directors' letter of the 31st July last, I have much pleasure in notifying you that the terms have been accepted by the required percentage of shareholders, and that the purchase will be completed. I hope to send you the necessary transfers for signature in the course of the next few days. It will be necessary to sign these transfers and return them with the share certificate, and will you please have the share certificate available so there may be no delay in sending the documents to me."

An arrangement for closer financial connection between Lever Brothers and A. and F. Pears is now before shareholders. The last-named company is already controlled by Levers, for in 1914 the company's 320,000 Ord. Shares of £1 each were converted into a similar number of 12 per cent. Cumulative Preferred Ord. Shares, and there were created and issued to Lever Brothers 150,000 new Ord. Shares of £1 each. In 1918 an additional 150,000 Ord. Shares were created. For each 12 per cent. Pref., shareholders are now offered one Lever Brothers 7 per cent. Pref. Share and one Lever Brothers 8 per cent. Pref. Share. It is also proposed to give 10 Lever 7 per cent. Pref. Shares of £1 each in exchange for each Pears £10 6 per cent. Cumulative Pref. Share.

THE MONEY MARKET.

ANOTHER RISE IN SILVER.

Bank Rate (changed April 15th) .... 7 p.c.

There was some contraction in the working margin of the Money market yesterday as the result of increased Treasury bill payments and some calling in of funds by the banks. Call money remained at 5 p.c., and the balance available on cheaper terms was unimportant. Weekly loans were unchanged at 5½ p.c. Nearly four millions was disbursed in dividends, chiefly upon North-Western and Great Western Railways Securities. Calls on new capital totalled nearly half a million. Discounts were quiet, and the tone ruled rather steadier in sympathy with loan conditions, though the volume of paper offering was light. Two months' drafts were posted at 6¾ p.c., three months at 6 13/16 p.c., and six months' at 6 11/16 p.c. September, though in less keen request, were taken at 5¾ p.c.

Bank Rate (Discount) changed April 15, 1920	7%
60 days (bills)	6¾%
3 months	6¾% / Trade 7¾%
4 months	6¾% / 7¾%

MARKET REPORTS.

CATTLE.—GLASGOW, Wednesday. — Average supplies of Scotch, but smaller supplies of Irish owing to season's dispute; trade, on the whole, was dearer, and an early clearance effected. Sheep and lambs forward in numbers about same as last week; top quality scarcer, and a dear selling trade was experienced. In dead meat section good supplies of home beef and mutton; beef firmer; Scotch lambs very dear.

EDINBURGH, Wednesday.—Large show of sheep and lambs; good demand. Halfbred ewe lambs to 137/-; halfbred wether lambs, 96/-; Cheviot lambs, 78/-; Cheviot sheep, 107/-; Oxford, 79/-. Cattle trade quiet—Bullocks to £48; stirks, £20; shorthorn cows to £31 per head.

WAKEFIELD, Wednesday.—About 100 fewer fat cattle on offer than at last week's market, the supply consisting of Irish, Scottish, Lincolnshire, and Yorkshire beasts. Trade slow at ½d. to ½d. per lb. less money, first quality shorthorns making 23/-, secondary sorts 21/6, and third quality 18/- per 14 lb. stone, dead weight. Smaller entry of sheep and lambs; trade firm, the best quality Downs and crossbreds averaging 2/2¼, while lambs realised 2/3 to 2/4 per lb. Dairy cows were in slow demand at late rates, best quality milkers averaging £55 10/- per head, while a few of the best animals made up to £68 per head. Numbers in the market—Cattle 391, sheep and lambs 811, dairy cows 35.

GRAIN.—GLASGOW, Wednesday.—Wheat controlled, and at fixed price. Flour—G.R., 63/6; imported, 65/9. Maize quiet, but firm. Barley steady, but scarce. Oats firmer. Beans steady. Peas unaltered. Oatmeal in rather better demand at late rates.

FLOATING GRAIN CARGOES.—BALTIC, Wednesday.—WHEAT—A part cargo Plate, 14,000 quarters, per Panama transport, allocated at 94/- per 480lbs. MAIZE quiet for cargoes, with sellers more frequent; parcels in bags, arrived sellers 71/-, steamers August-September 68/-, September-October 66/-, Danube August-September 69/-; parcels quiet. BARLEY steady; a cargo 4,000 tons Dan.-Bess.-Kus. early September sold 69/-, parcels of No. 4 Canada Western sellers 72/6, October-November 68/6. Plate August-September 71/- per 400lbs. OATS quiet; Plate 14 lbs. July-August sold 48/3, August-September 47/6 per 320lbs.

MARK LANE, Wednesday.—English WHEAT sparingly offered; few samples of new crop show indifferent quality; whites delivered up ranges to 90/-, reds ranges to 90/- delivered; foreign grades maintained; No. 1 Northern Manitoba 100/6 ex ship, No. 2 ditto 99/6 ex ship, No. 3 ditto 98/6 ex ship, Australian spot 104/9, No. 2 red winter 98/6 ex ship, Argentine 98/7½ ex ship. FLOUR—Good demand; Canadian 65/9 ex store, American 65/9 ex store, English G.R. 63/6 ex mills, Australian patents 65/9 ex store. Grinding BARLEY steady; Odessa-Nicolaieff-Californian 105/- ex ship, American malting 82/6 landed, No. 4 Canada Western 76/6 landed. OATS quieter; English up to 80/-, Scottish up to 82/-, Plate landed 65/-, American white clipped nominal. MAIZE steady; mixed American nominal; Plate 66/6 ex ship, 68/- landed.

LIVERPOOL, Wednesday.—C.i.f. parcels of wheat were not offered. MAIZE—Parcels River Plate opened unchanged, then became easier, but finished at about last night's rates. August-September sold at 64/- and September-October shipment at 63/- per qr. WHEAT on the spot ruled quietly steady at unchanged prices. Maize—Spot parcels River Plate remained quiet at 14/2 to 14/3 per cental. FLOUR—Local milled moved fairly and imported remained scarce, but not quotably altered. River Plate OATS, 42lbs., clipped, August-September quoted 50/9 per qr. Canadian feed BARLEY August-September shipment now offered at 70/- per qr. Yellow River Plate maize futures, after opening unchanged, became somewhat steadier, but the market eventually closed quiet, with October delivery unchanged, but September and December 1½d. per cental under last night. Sales—Ten loads at 13/10½ for October and 13/7½ for December delivery. Closing values—September 14/4½, October 13/10½, December 13/6½ per cental.

PROVISIONS.—DUBLIN POTATO, Wednesday. Prices for potatoes remain as previously quoted, viz., 9/- to 10/- per cwt. for best qualities. Very little business was put through in this line to-day.

LIVERPOOL, Wednesday.—BACON—Moderate allotments have been made from the recent arrivals, chiefly Canadian, and importers are now in a position to offer more liberally of fresh selections. There is a fair demand, Canadian Wiltshires being most sought after, though American Wiltshires find a ready outlet, and some inquiry is also experienced for bellies and Cumberlands of fresh condition to satisfy country orders, while under-priced lots are required for shipment to Ireland. Irish is still in very limited supply, and Danish also scarce, though rather more plentiful than of late, but all finds ready buyers, the former in some cases being taken reluctantly, owing to the high prices demanded. HAMS scarce and move freely into consumption despite a proportion of bacon having to be taken in conjunction. Shoulders remain quiet, though fresh square are sought after owing to the difficulty in securing hams. LARD on the spot is in fair demand for American refined, which is freely offered, but supply of prime steam in small compass. CHEESE fairly active on controlled at 1/5½ per lb., delivered to retailers, but Cheshire in only moderate request at 1/7 to 1/8 per lb. Free Canadian moves but slowly at 153/- to 154/- per cwt. for white and 157/- to 159/- for coloured. BUTTER firm and Irish very scarce, the distribution of Government allotments recently announced being anxiously awaited. EGGS still slow of sale at 37/- to 40/- per 120 for Irish.

DUBLIN VEGETABLE, Wednesday.—Demand for vegetables was poor, and but small quantities of seasonable commodities offered. The following are average prices:—York cabbage, 25/- to 40/- and 66/- per load; cauliflowers, 2/6 to 3/6 per dozen; onions, 10d. to 1/- per bundle; white turnips, 4d. to 8d. per bunch; vegetable marrows, 6/- to 12/- per dozen; lettuce, 4d. to 7d. per dozen; rhubarb, 3/- to 4/6 per bundle.

DUBLIN FISH, Wednesday.—For a mid-week market supplies of fish were fairly large to-day, and a good demand cleared everything offering, including 27 chests lobsters, 10 packages salmon, 16 mackerel, and 100 of herrings; arrivals from country and local wind trawlers and hookers were also extra heavy. Prices averaged:—Salmon, 2/- to 2/6 per lb.; lobsters, firsts, 10/- to 12/-; seconds, 5/- to 6/-, and small and dead, 3/- to 4/- per 13; large soles, 30/- to 35/-; mediums, 20/- to 25/-, and slips, 6/- to 10/- per 9 pairs; turbot, 2/- to 20/- each; brill, 1/- to 4/- apiece; plaice, large, per 4, 3/- to 4/-. Box fish—Plaice, 20/- to 60/-; haddock, 20/- to 30/-; ray, 10/- to 20/-; ling, 20/- to 30/-; whiting, 10/- to 20/-; gurnard, 3/- to 6/-; white soles, 10/- to 20/-; pollock, 20/- to 25/-; codfish, 30/- to 50/-.

BILLINGSGATE FISH, Wednesday.—Supply fair; demand steady. Salmon, 39d. to 42d.; grilse, 42d.; salmon trout, 24d. to 30d.; soles, 18d. to 22d.; slips, 18d. to 20d. per lb.; live eels, 30/- to 35/-; dead, 15/- to 20/- per draft; turbot, 7/- to 10/-; brill, 7/- to 9/-; plaice, 8/- to 12/-; halibut, 7/- to 11/-; lemon soles, 12/- to 13/-; cod, 3/- to 5/-; hake, 7/- to 8/-; haddock, 2/- to 3/- per stone.

GRIMSBY FISH, Wednesday.—58 North Sea, two Iceland, and two Faroe trawlers provided a good supply; tone of market practically unchanged. Cod, 7/-; plaice, 11/- to 12/-; halibuts, 14/-; lemon soles, 16/-; dabs, 8/-; hake, 9/-; gibbed haddocks, 3/6; whitings, 3/-; small haddocks, 2/- per stone; soles, 2/-; turbots and brills, 8d. per lb.

BUTTER.—CORK, Wednesday.—Firsts, 299/-; fresh butter, 290/- per cwt.

PRODUCE.—LONDON, Wednesday—SUGAR—Market for free parcels quite nominal, with buyers reticent, and trend of values weak; American syrup neglected. COFFEE—Spot market quiet; export varieties particularly quiet. Futures dull. TEA—Indian sales of 12,000 packages experienced a depressed market, and rates declined for most descriptions. RICE—There is a steady export trade doing; Rangoon bran quietly steady. SPICE—Pepper quiet, steady. OILS—Linseed steady; spot 82/-, September-December 77/3. Rape—Crude spot 73/-, refined 80/-. Coconut—Ceylon spot 89/-. Turpentine steadier; American spot 137/6, September-December 140/-, January-April 142/- per cwt. OILSEEDS—Firm, quiet. Calcutta August-September quoted £38 6/-, Bombay £39 5/-, Plate £35 5/-. Rapeseed steady; Toria September-October sold £33, brown Cawnpore quoted £30. Cottonseed steady; Egyptian, f.a.q., September-October £18 10/-, Bombay ditto £13 5/-. Castor—Bombay August-September quoted £27, all per ton. Gingelly unaltered. JUTE—There was some inquiry on near Continental account, but as a rule the market continued in a quiet state; native firsts assortment actuals old crop, August-September, sellers £44, substitutes £41, new actuals £49, substitutes £47 per ton. Hessians, and also twills, move off quietly on former terms. HEMP—Manila held firm tone; J grade August-October sold £64, K ditto quoted £54, L spot sold £54 per ton. New Zealand idle. SHELLAC—Market firm; fair inquiries; fair T. N. spot 675/-, October sold 610/-. COPRA in better request and steadier; sundried Straits August-October London £54 buyers, September-November £54 5/-, October-December sold £54 10/-. LEAD easier. Sales 1,300 tons, including August £35 15/- to £35 10/-. SPELTER weaker. Sales 200 tons; November at £43 to £42 15/-, all per ton.

LONDON FREIGHTS—Wednesday.

Business in homeward markets shows signs of improvement, there being more disposition to charter, but while tonnage is ample owners refrain from pressing, and rates fairly steady in principal trades. River Plate section, however, ruled easier owing to the slow demand for maize cargoes, and up-river loading September to U.K. quoted 80/- to 82/6, and lower ports at 72/6, while clipped oats are worth 85/-. Bahia Blanca home. North American grain steady at about late rates. American coals steady, with more doing on basis of 12 dollars River Plate, 14 to 14½ dollars Scandinavia, while French Atlantic would come about 12 dollars, Marseilles 14, and Tunis 14½ dollars. Outward market quiet for coals, but there are a fair number of orders for miscellaneous cargoes, including fertilisers Hull to Charleston 25/-. Glasgow to Bombay early September 56/-, rocksalt Hamburg to Newfoundland 27/6, Calcutta 32/6 September, with similar cargoes from Rotterdam to Buenos Ayres at 30/-. Time charter business without new feature. Fixtures—Steamer Hampden Roads to Rotterdam prompt 12 dollars—coal; steamer Hampden Roads to Oran, Gibraltar, Marseilles prompt 14 dollars—coal; steamer, 4,000 tons, Hampden Roads West Italy, September, 14.25 dollars—coal; steamer, 3,000 tons, Algiers to Tyne, prompt 17/6—ore; steamer, 2,000 tons, Bizerta to Middlesbro' prompt, 18/—ore.

CRICKET.

M.C.C. TEAM FOR AUSTRALIA.

It was officially announced at Lord's yesterday that E. R. Wilson, the Yorkshire cricketer, had accepted an invitation to form one of the M.C.C. team for Australia to fill the vacancy caused by the dropping out of R. H. Spooner.

LEINSTER v. PHOENIX.

The concluding big match of the Dublin season starts to-morrow, when the above clubs meet at Rathmines. Both sides will have out their best available teams, and Leinster will have the assistance of Captain Carr, who played such a splendid innings against Dublin University.

PHOENIX v. PEMBROKE WANDERERS.

There was a somewhat close finish to this match in the Park yesterday, but the feature of the evening's cricket was an uncommonly fine bowling feat by Crawfurd, who claimed six of the visitors' wickets for nine runs, and accomplished the "hat trick" by bowling McDonogh, Hughes, and Hand in his fourth over. In all Crawfurd sent down nine overs, four of which were maidens. Kidd also bowled very well, securing three wickets for 43. Pembroke Wanderers had two wickets down for 26, but McDonogh and Barry put on 39 for the third. A run later Barry left, after playing a brisk innings of 30, including a 6, 4 fours, and a 3. Crawfurd then disposed of McDonogh (who was in an hour and a half for 15), Hughes, and Hand, the fourth, fifth, and sixth wickets going down at 66. The visitors' innings, which lasted two hours and a quarter, closed for 90. Phoenix lost half their wickets for 75, but two runs were required to win, when the eighth wicket went, and in making the winning run Dunlop had a narrow escape of being run out. Meade and Dunlop were together at the close, when the total was 102 for eight wickets. Barry bowled extremely well, accounting for six wickets for 34. Score:—

LEINSTER v. COLONEL CHARLTON'S XI.

It was very cold at Rathmines yesterday, when the home club won a good game by 76 runs. Batting first Leinster totalled 189, Heaslip being top scorer with a faultless 66, for which he was batting an hour and a half, and hit 11 fours; while Wills, who went in tenth, hit well to leg and was not out for 41, including 7 boundaries. Davenport, who came quickly off the pitch, took 4 wickets for 43, and de Vitre had 3 for 48. The visitors started in promising fashion, knocking up 87 for four wickets; but on R. L. Donovan coming on the innings was quickly finished off, the left-hander taking five wickets for 45. Score:—

PROPOSED LADIES' CLUB FOR DUBLIN.

It is proposed to start in Dublin a ladies' cricket club, which, judging by the success attending the girls' matches played on the Leinster ground this summer, there should be little difficulty in forming. The keenness shown by the players and the interest taken in these games by the public would appear to justify the formation of such a club. Mrs. Elliott-Lynn, the United Arts Club, 44 St. Stephen's Green, Dublin, who is interesting herself in the matter, will be glad to receive names of all those who would be willing to join, and, if sufficient support be accorded the project, it is hoped to make a beginning next season.

WORCESTERSHIRE v. WARWICKSHIRE.

There were only a couple of hours' cricket in this game at Worcester yesterday. Rain fell heavily up to luncheon, but it was possible to make a start at ten minutes to 4 o'clock, while the crowd watched the extraordinary spectacle of men who had spent the greater part of the day in the pavilion go into tea at 5 o'clock. Winning the toss, Worcester batted upon a soft pitch, but they seemed all at sea with the bowling of Howell and Calthorpe. A. Jewell ran himself out at 14, and four men were out with the score standing at 19. Then Bowley made a few good strokes, but he was bowled at 44, while Taylor was out to the first ball he received. M. Jewell and Richardson took the score to 78, but the innings closed for 82. Howell took 5 wickets for 39, Calthorpe 2 for 30, and Rotherham 2 for 4. Warwickshire made 15 for the loss of Cowan. Score:—

Worcestershire 82
Warwickshire .... 15 (1 wkt.)

MIDDLESEX v. SOMERSET.

In dull, unsettled weather the return match between these counties was commenced yesterday at Lord's. Somerset played Bajana instead of Considine, and Middlesex Gunasekara for Longman. As looked likely rain came on at half-past 3 o'clock, and caused a delay of 70 minutes, while it put an end to further cricket at twenty past five. The game was in progress for three hours and twenty minutes, and in that time Somerset scored 182 for six wickets. It was a creditable performance, but the cricket did not present any special feature. Daniell (20) and MacBryan (23) scored 48 for the first wicket, Jackson (58) and Waldock (17) put on 41 for the fourth, and the former and Lyon (35) 62 for the fifth. Sixth out at 171. Jackson was batting two hours and twenty minutes. Score:—

Somerset .... 182 (6 wkts.)
Middlesex .... —

SUSSEX v. SURREY.

The return match between Sussex and Surrey was the attraction for the second half of the Hastings Week yesterday. A large ring watched a day's keen cricket, but Hobbs's absence, through strain, was disappointing, his place being taken by Miles. Sussex found runs hard to get against bowlers who were keeping a steady length. Vine played attractively for two hours and 25 minutes. He and Wilson were responsible for a partnership of 79 in just over an hour, and things looked brighter for Sussex when Lockton got three wickets quickly. A. Relf and Street put on 62 in fifty minutes for the ninth wicket, and the innings lasted four hours and five minutes. Surrey suffered a collapse in the last hour, half the side being out for 66. Score:—

ESSEX v. YORKSHIRE.

Between four and five thousand people witnessed the opening of this match at Southend yesterday. Yorkshire won the toss, and Sutcliffe and Holmes made a good start, 50 going up in half an hour. Then came a partial collapse, and Holmes (27), Denton (1), Leyland (10), Rhodes (1), and Hirst (0), left for an additional 20, half the side being out for 70. Robinson and Sutcliffe, however, completely altered the position. They sent the hundred up after an hour and 35 minutes, and the second hundred in two hours and 20 minutes, and altogether the sixth wicket put on 147 runs. Robinson, in his 74, hit 8 fours. Later Waddington (26) and Sutcliffe brought the total to 307, Sutcliffe carrying out his bat for 125, which included 10 fours. Essex had only 20 minutes' batting before rain stopped play for the day. Score:—

Yorkshire 307
Essex .... 20 (no wkt.)

GLOUCESTERSHIRE v. LANCASHIRE.

NO PLAY OWING TO RAIN.

Four hours' very heavy rain yesterday, from midday onwards, prevented any play on the first day of the Cheltenham cricket week.

KENT v. NOTTS.

At Dover yesterday Notts compiled a good score against Kent, keeping their opponents in the field all day while they scored 333 for nine wickets. The match was the first of the Dover Festival. Notts won the toss, and went in to bat on a wicket on which run-getting appeared fairly easy. Runs, however, did not come quickly, until the brothers Gunn got together. They took the score to 134 before George was bowled by Wooley for 65. Collins disposed of Carr and Hardstaff for only three runs, but Gunn and Payton added 161 before the former was clean bowled by Fairservice. He was at the wickets just under four hours for his 131, reaching the hundred in three hours and a quarter. But for a narrow escape from being run out by Hedges, his wicket was never in danger, and he hit 14 fours. Staples was caught by Humphries, off Freeman, eleven runs later, and then Barratt came in to liven the cricket. He hit Freeman for a four and a six consecutively, but gave Johnston an easy catch in the deep field, which he failed to hold, and was nearly caught by Bickmore off the next ball. Payton and Oates were dismissed by Freeman in quick succession, and Barratt, after being badly missed by the Kent skipper, was smartly stumped by Hubble. Score:—

Notts .... 333 (9 wkts.)

YACHTING.

PORT OF PLYMOUTH REGATTA.

The conditions for the second day of the Plymouth week were not of the best, a light breeze being accompanied by rain, with the consequence that there were two starters in the principal race, and in this, White Heather, served by a change of wind in the last round, won by an ample margin.

Handicap for yachts of 70 tons T.M. and over. Entries:—Nyria, cutter, Mrs. E. R. Workman; White Heather, cutter, Sir C. Allom. Course, 40 miles. White Heather allowed Nyria two minutes. The wind was light from the south-west, and gave a beat to seaward, a broad reach to the eastern mark and a reach home. A capital start was made at 10.30, White Heather to the windward, but Nyria, slipping through the water fast, held her rival, and it was only after they had broken tacks several times that White Heather had a slight advantage. This she gradually increased off the wind, and with jackyards aloft all day, it was then a plain sailed race until the last round. Then whilst on a broad reach from the home mark the wind flew into the north-west. White Heather went across the line on one tack, but Nyria was handicapped by the changed conditions, and having to make several boards lost time. White Heather winning the first prize by over four minutes on the handicap. Finishing times:—White Heather (first), 3h. 43m. 25 secs.; Nyria, 3h. 50m. 14 secs.

QUEENSTOWN REGATTA.

SUCCESSFUL REVIVAL.

This one-time popular Southern fixture, which lapsed during the period of the war, was revived under new auspices yesterday in glorious summer weather. There was a nice breeze from the North-North-East, and the sailing events were well contested and afforded good sport, especially in Classes A, B and C. In the two principal events all the contestants carried topsails, save Geraldine. Details:—

11.30—Handicap for Yachts of A Class (10 tons and over, T.M.). 1st prize, Sir Thomas Lipton's Cup; 2nd, £5. Course—From flag boat opposite Regatta quay to Daunt's Rock Lightship, back to flag boat off quay, out and round Harbour Rock Buoy, back to flag boat, out round Dognose Buoy, and finish on crossing starting line. The following competed:—

Verve; rating, 20; Mr. J. H. Bennett; scratch.
Corrinne; 16; Mr. H. C. Fox; 13 mins.
Minna Dhu; 10; Mr. John Reidy; 17 mins.
Claddagh; (21); Mr. Leo Daly; 25 mins.
Geraldine; 14; Mr. J. Hayes; 27 mins.

At the start Claddagh was first over the line, followed by Verve, Geraldine, Corrinne, and Minna Dhu. In this order they rounded the Spit Lighthouse, when each in turn ran out a spinnaker to port for the long run to the lightship, during which Verve forged into premier position. After rounding the lightship it was a dead beat back to the inner harbour. In this windward work Verve outpointed her competitors, and continued to increase her lead. The other four worked fairly close together, but Geraldine fell into the fifth place before Roche's Point was reached. Rounding the flag boat off the Regatta quay completing the first round, the yachts were timed:—Verve, 2 hours 49 mins. 20 secs.; Minna Dhu, 3 hours 20 secs.; Corrinne, 3 hours 7 mins. 20 secs.; Claddagh, 3 hours 8 mins. 10 secs.; Geraldine, 3 hours 11 mins. 50 secs.

About this time the wind lightened a good bit, and it seemed doubtful if Verve would be able to save her time, but the wind freshened later on, and with relatively little change in the positions of the yachts they were timed at the finish:—

	H.	M.	S.
Verve (winner)	4	56	53
Minna Dhu	5	23	8
Corrinne	5	23	56
Claddagh (third)	5	27	30
Geraldine (second)	5	27	36

12 noon—Handicap for Yachts of B Class (T.M.). 1st prize, £7 10/-; second, £4.

The following competed:—
Tertia, Mr. J. Crofts, scratch.
Ziska, Mr. H. Hayes, 4 mins.
Iunia, Mr. B. Sutton, 5 mins.
Helga, Mr. T. Kinmonth, 10 mins.

The course was the same as in Class A, but the yachts had not to go around the Harbour Rock Buoy. Tertia got over the line first, and the others followed close in a bunch. The match proved an interesting one, and at the finish the yachts were timed:—

	H.	M.	S.
Ziska (winner)	5	0	6
Iunia (second)	5	5	18
Tertia	5	14	10

Helga not timed.

12.30 p.m.—Handicap Yachts of C Class (one design). First prize, £6; second, £3.

The following competed:—
Maureen, Mr. John Clehane, scratch.
Cygnet, Mr. P. O'Regan, scratch.
Colleen, Mr. L. Daly, scratch.
Meave, Mr. William Hegarty, scratch.
Jap, Mr. F. Dooley, scratch.
Minx, Mr. H. Carr Cave, 5 mins.

This class always affords much sport, and the race yesterday proved an excellent one. The result was:—Maureen won, and Jap was second.

Ten competed in the handicap race for sailing boats, open or part decked, and was won by Cockatrice.

A number of gig, pleasure, and boat races and other events followed the sailing matches.

SALE OF PRIME GRASS FARM,

BROWNSTOWN, DUNBOYNE, CO. MEATH.

WE have been favoured with instructions from M. Kelly, Esq., to SELL BY PUBLIC AUCTION, in our Salerooms, 4 HAYMARKET, DUBLIN, on the 9th SEPTEMBER, 1920, at 1 o'clock p.m., his magnificent Grazing Farm, situated as above, and containing 121 Acres, or thereabouts, subject to an annuity of £113 2s. 0d. to I.L.C. P.L.V., £127 10s. 0d.

The Farm, which is comprised of some of the best fattening and finishing lands in Meath, is situated midway on the main road leading from Dunboyne to Maynooth, where very successful monthly sales of live stock and fairs are respectively held. The lands, which are nicely divided by well-constructed fences into three average-sized divisions, each of which has an abundant water supply, are at present all under Grazing.

There is a neat Two-storey Slated Residence, which has been recently erected, having glass porch hall entrance, and containing 6 apartments, on the holding. The Out-offices comprise byre with tieings for 16 cattle, stabling for 4 horses, car and store houses, shed, etc., and there is a Workman's House in the farmyard.

IMPORTANT SALE OF

CARROWROE PARK

DEMESNE LANDS, with MANSION HOUSE, GARDEN, PLEASURE GROUNDS, STABLE YARD, FARM YARD, OUT-OFFICES, TURBARY, Etc., Etc.

THE undersigned have received instructions from Major Goff, TO SELL BY PUBLIC AUCTION, At CARROWROE PARK (near the Town of Roscommon), On THURSDAY, the 9th SEPTEMBER, 1920, At 12 o'clock noon subject to Conditions of Sale and Descriptive Particulars, in One or Six Lots, containing, in the whole, about 300 Statute acres. The House is in perfect repair, with all modern conveniences, central heating with radiators; the land is prime, stabling excellent. Beautifully situated about half a mile from Roscommon Town, would make an ideal Stud Farm or Training Establishment.

Orders to View on application to the Auctioneer. Printed Rentals giving further descriptive particulars and Conditions of Sale can be had from Messrs. S. S. and E. REEVES and SONS, 51 Merrion square, Dublin; or

WILLIAM BLACK,

Auctioneer, ROSCOMMON.

GENTLEMAN'S RESIDENCE.

RAILVIEW HOUSE, DROMORE ROAD, CO. TYRONE,

WITH VALUABLE LANDS, FOR SALE.

PROPOSALS will be received by the undersigned Auctioneer up till 9th SEPTEMBER, 1920, and if at that date the property is still undisposed of it will be put up for SALE BY PUBLIC AUCTION on 23rd SEPTEMBER, 1920, at 2 o'clock p.m.

The Property is only being sold on account of the advanced age of the vendor, and seldom has such an offer been put on the market in this part of the country, and certainly its equal has not been known in the North of Ireland for many years.

The Residence, known as "Railview," has attached 90 acres, or thereabouts, of the finest freehold land; subject to £25 per annum head rent. The Residence contains reception room, 5 bedrooms, servants' rooms, kitchen, pantry, etc. There is an enclosed yard, with stabling for 6 horses, byres for 18 cows; also dairy, garage, barn (20 x 100 feet), boiling-house and turf-house. There is a well-stocked fruit and kitchen garden on the property.

The premises are beautifully situated, with a commanding view of the surrounding district, being within three miles of the town of Dromore and an equal distance from Tempo. The Great Northern Railway passes within a few hundred yards of the residence, and a co-operative creamery is situated adjacent. There is an everlasting supply of black turbary on the estate.

The property lies in a peaceable and law-abiding district, and offers every inducement to intending purchasers.

Immediate Possession can be given.

COUNTY OF TYRONE.

TOWN OF STRABANE.

DESIRABLE FREEHOLD RESIDENCE FOR SALE, WITH FIELD OF LAND ATTACHED.

THE undersigned have received instructions from the Trustee of the will of Mr. John Reilly, late of Strabane, County Tyrone, J.P., deceased, to receive tenders up to the 1st day of September, 1920, for the purchase of that desirable Residence, Gardens and Lands attached, known as the Bank House, Bowling Green, Strabane, with vacant possession on the 1st day of May, 1921; as at present in the occupation of James Toner, Esquire, Clerk of the Crown and Peace for the County of Tyrone.

The dwellinghouse, which is a substantial three-storeyed slated building, fronting the Bowling Green, contains, on the ground floor, large entrance hall, with fine staircase, diningroom, morning room, smoke room, and a large room, formerly used as the bank. On the first floor, large drawingroom, three bedrooms and dressingroom, bathroom (hot and cold), w.c. Second floor contains 5 bedrooms, bathroom (hot and cold), and w.c. There are also two servants' rooms and lavatory, with separate staircase. The kitchen, scullery, etc., are on the ground floor, and, in addition, the house contains ample storing accommodation.

The yard, which is well enclosed, contains suitable out-offices, including stabling, byre, coach-house, etc. Attached to the house are two splendid gardens, fully stocked, tennis court, and conservatory, with a large field containing about three acres, Statute measure, in rear.

The whole property is in thorough external and internal repair, and in first class decorative order, and forms a most attractive residence in the best part of the town of Strabane.

The property is held for ever, and will be sold, as regards the dwellinghouse and gardens, subject to £15, being the proportionate part of the annual head rent, payable thereout in conjunction with other buildings adjoining the property, and as regards the field to the yearly rent of £10 per annum.

N.B.—Any intending purchaser who desires to view the premises must in the first instance apply to the undersigned, through whom alone all necessary arrangements for this purpose can be made.

For further particulars, abstract of title, and Conditions of Sale, apply to WILSON and SIMMS, Solicitors, Strabane.
